Supervised park pleasures can do a lot for the kiddies this vacation season. It is one thing to get them there uninjured, and back home in as good condition as when they started. Centralizing the play spots will be a contributing help to the traffic departments. And the caution of automobile drivers should increase in alertness in those localities where the children are required to cross the street. Most people are thoughtfully minded. So give the matter more thought if you are rolling along the playground sites.

Call for Luther Burbank, but I doubt if it gets through. Friend brings in a stem on which there are two roses—one red and another white, believe it or not. This bioplasm is unusual. So in order to get an answer I suppose one should go to the root of the matter, which probably accounts for the peculiar result. The red rose, no doubt pining for its affinity, inclined its head first and gave up the ghost.

I'll Tell You

By BOB BURNS

There ain't much use of parents worryin' about what their children are gonna take up as a life's work because sooner or later, it's gonna assert itself. When a child is of a tender age, he or she might have a lotta different things that they expect to do when they are older but as the years go by, their main ambition stands out above all others.

My Uncle Beany and Aunt Ditty were worried about their daughter, Lobelia, because she was 28 years old and hadn't shown any signs of pickin' out a career. Finally one evening, they invited a famous psychologist out to dinner with 'em. After dinner, the mother went into the kitchen and Lobelia went into the parlor and started playin' the piano and singing. After a while the psychologist went back into the kitchen and told Aunt Ditty "I think you'd better let your daughter take up music as a career—she's a born musician." Aunt Ditty says, "What makes you think that?" and the psychologist says, "Well, a girl that age has got to be awfully fond of music to be able to sit there and play and sing while her poor mother washes dishes!"

But Planes Still Are Combing South Seas

HONOLULU. (P)—Equatorial rain squalls threatened to interrupt the search for Amelia Earhart which navy airmen considered was entering its most crucial phase today.

But despite a forecast of rain and poor visibility, officers aboard the battleship Colorado planned to catapult her three planes aloft again in expectation of completing an aerial search of the Phoenix islands tomorrow.

Today and Saturday, they said they felt, was the most critical period since the coast guard cutter started the search just a week ago. If Miss Earhart is alive, officers said, the Colorado's planes should locate her.

NO REEFS SIGHTED
Airmen felt in flights yesterday and Wednesday they definitely eliminated the possibility she was in the sea around Winslow Reef.

By sea and air, search for the missing aviator and her navigator, Frederick J. Noonan, has encompassed approximately 136,000 square miles without even sighting some of the shoals and sand spits supposed to exist in the vast area where they vanished.

Three planes from the battleship Colorado, steaming steadily from the equator southward to the Phoenix islands, soared over the area east and south of Howland islands yesterday, but sighted no trace of the pair.

WINSLOW REEF MISSING
The plane could not even find Winslow Reef, which old charts showed peeked just above the sea 175 miles southeast of Howland, which Miss Earhart missed on a flight from New Guinea.

Mariners expressed belief the only available charts either misrepresented the location of the reef, or else the little known outcropping had sunk far enough to be no longer visible.

The Colorado's fliers, awaiting aid over the week-end from the aircraft carrier Lexington's plane armada, today planned to swing southward once again but come one should go to the root of the matter, which probably accounts for the peculiar result. The red rose, no doubt pining for its affinity, inclined its head first and gave up the ghost.

THIRD TERMERS KEEP LEAD

Santa Ana Democrats today are beginning to assert that the President has a right to have a third term.

As more ballots in The Journal's straw vote came in today the ones who marked their X in the "Yes" column proved to be 90 per cent Democrats.

One, in fact, was a "converted" Democrat. W. H. White voted "yes" and said he was once a Republican but is now a Roosevelt Democrat.

At noon the voters were eight to five in favor of a third term. Supporters of another election for the President were strong in their praise of Roosevelt.

Typical comments:
"The best president we ever had."—Paul A. Conito.
"He has proved to be a good man."—C. D. Starnes.

HEAT DRIVES 'ANGELS' FROM 'GOD' DIVINE'S 'PROMISED LAND'

KINGSTON, N. Y. (P)—Nearly 1700 weary followers of Father Major J. Divine bade good-by today to the bald-pated negro cult leader's "promised land," their two-day "celestial Olympics" wilted by the heat.

Their scheduled "Olympic games" twice postponed because of the weather, the faithful left between 200 and 300 pilgrims behind them to populate the land of "milk and honey" and made ready to steam down the Hudson.

Attempts to learn the exact number remaining in the 1000-acre Greenkill park brought baffling replies from Father Divine's followers.

CHARGES STIR FIGHT AT HEARING

Critic Says She Used
Loophole for Charity

WASHINGTON. (P)—Representative Fish (R., N. Y.) told a congressional committee today that Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt availed herself of a tax loophole.

He was told in return:

"All your testimony is pure and unadulterated hearsay."
Representative Vinson (D., Ky.) made that answer to Fish, who represents President Roosevelt's home district, after subjecting the New Yorker to biting questioning.

CHARGES "SMEARING"
"What are you doing but smearing?" Vinson asked.
The New York congressman, who also suggested committee examination of tax returns of several members of Mr. Roosevelt's personal and official families, answered that he had been forbidden from submitting written evidence.

Vinson obtained permission for him to submit proof of his charges and Fish agreed to do so.

SON JAMES NAMED
Pressed by Vinson, a committee member, for his source of information, Fish said a Mr. Darby of 30 Rockefeller Center, New York, had supplied some of the material on which he based his statements.
He said Darby came to his office (See FISH ACCUSES, Page 2)

CHARLES ELLIS DIES TODAY

Judge Charles W. Ellis, former superior court judge in Kansas for many years, died here early this morning after a brief illness. Judge Ellis, who had made his home at 602 South Birch street for nearly 20 years, was well-known in local political circles, although he had retired from active connection with the bar. He was 94 years old.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Irwin F. Landis, Mrs. C. Richard Couden, and Mrs. Roy Hall, all prominent Santa Anans; one son, Fred R. Ellis of Ardmore, Okla.; and four grandchildren, Frederick, Jr., George, Richard and Jeannette Ellis of Ardmore. Funeral services will be announced later by Brown and Wagner.

Finland Munition Blast Injured 13

HELSINGFORS, Finland. (P)—Ammunition stores exploded near here today with a terrifying roar, which shook the whole city.

Thirteen persons were injured, three critically, but there were no deaths.
The blast in Sveaborg Castle, just outside Helsingfors, was followed by fire that shot hundreds of feet into the air and burned for hours.

WHEELER OPENS COURT BILL BLAST

Cites 'Deep Feeling'
Of People on Measure

WASHINGTON. (P)—Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.) opened his attack on the administration's court bill in the senate today with an assertion that never before had he seen "such an appeal to the prejudices of the people" as has been made in support of the measure.

The Montana senator opened the opposition debate on the judicial reorganization measure before packed galleries.
Before beginning his argument, Wheeler put into effect his expressed intention to permit the senate to transact no business, outside of privileged matters, as long as the administration clamped down strict rules on debate.

HOLDS UP NEW BILLS
Introduction of new bills, submission of committee reports, and many other routine activities require unanimous consent while the senate debates the court bill in one continuous "legislative day."
Wheeler's action indicated a huge legislative jam probably will develop back of the bill.

The Montana senator first called attention to a statement issued recently by Senator Minton (D., Ind.) suggesting that Wheeler had disclosed to newspapers the contents of a letter.

Resist Frozen Fruit Charge

Three Anaheim citrus packing officials today awaited a jury trial following their pleas of not guilty yesterday to charges of packing and shipping fruit frozen beyond the tolerance limit.

Edward W. Mills, manager of the Anaheim Community growers; A. J. Miller, manager of the Western Fruit Growers, Inc., and Alex

Jones, foreman of Western Fruit, named in a complaint signed out by Joe Hightower, state inspector, faced Justice Charles Kuchel yesterday afternoon, pleaded not guilty and asked for a jury trial. Trial was set for Sept. 14.

CONDEMNATION
Hightower's complaint charged the men, and Western Fruit, with violation of sections 784 and 785 of the state agricultural code. This action followed Hightower's petition in superior court Wednesday, as published exclusively in The Journal, asking for the condemnation of 928 packed boxes of oranges which he claimed were frozen beyond the tolerance limit.

Superior Judge G. K. Scovel today signed a court order directing that the 928 boxes of fruit be impounded in the cold-storage plant of the Anaheim Citrus Fruit association, under direction of Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs, pending hearing of the condemnation petition.

INSPECTED JULY 4
The fruit which is on trial in superior court was inspected by Hightower on July 4, he asserted. At that time it was not free from serious frost damage, Hightower said, and the petition alleges those concerned with the deal refused to unpack and recondition the fruit, on a 24-hour notice, as is provided by the California agricultural code.

According to the inspectors, it is believed that the 928 boxes of packed fruit were released by the Anaheim Community growers to the Etchandy family, growers. The growers in turn dealt with the Western Fruit Growers, it has been asserted. This phase of the case is expected to be uncovered in court. The case will come up for trial before Superior Judge James L. Allen July 16.

CIO Calls Strike; Men Say 'No'

YOUNGSTOWN, O. (P)—A call for a new strike at Republic Steel plants here by the Steel Workers Organizing Committee apparently was ignored by workers today as the deadline of 11:30 a. m. passed with no workers leaving the mills. Republic officials said "not a single man left the plant."

Republic officials said a few automobiles went in and out the gate but these were "ordinary traffic."

SENTENCE 2 FOR RELIEF 'CHISELING'

Pair Charged With Taking $363 From SRA

Two more alleged relief chiselers were put on the spot today by state relief officials.

Herman and Fannie Maloney, 912 East Broadway, Anaheim, pleaded guilty to chiseling charges brought by J. E. Barton, special investigator for State Controller Harry B. Riley.

The pleas were made this morning in Anaheim justice court before Judge Charles Kuchel, who sentenced the man to 30 days in the county jail. The sentence was suspended on condition that the husband and wife make restitution of $363.89 to the state relief administration. They will pay $10 a month. The charge against the woman was dropped.

The charge is the first to be brought against an Anaheim person, but is the second in Orange county. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Logan, Costa Mesa, recently were charged with relief chiseling. They also agreed to make restitution.

When people on relief are found who obtained relief through misrepresentation or fraudulent means, steps are taken to prosecute and recover the relief funds handed the chiseler.

Petty theft charges were filed against the Anaheim couple. It was charged that Maloney had been employed by the Industrial Fuel Supply company and earned about $50 a month while receiving relief, besides $25.41 from compensation.

The law permits relief clients to earn up to one-fourth of their SRA budget. It was charged that Mrs. Maloney had told SRA visitors that her husband had only occasional work, and that he had hurt his hand while working on his car. The Malonees have two children, 13 and 16 years of age.

Fireman Who Set

SAN BERNARDINO. (P)—For setting grass fires on his day off, Fireman Charles Barker was sentenced to 50 days in jail.

Barker, veteran of nine years in the city fire department, explained in justice court that he gained amusement from watching fires on vacant lots.

Fire Chief E. E. Leffen said other members of the department didn't enjoy putting out Barker's fires when it already was 100 degrees in the shade.

PRISONER IN MORALS CASE HIDDEN AWAY

Police Take No Risk
At La Habra Hearing

While a crowd of 50 glowering neighbors stood grimly outside, Elmer Wehn, 28-year-old WPA school crossing guard, was hustled out a back door of La Habra justice court yesterday afternoon and returned to the county jail to await superior court trial on charges of a felony morals offense against a 9-year-old schoolgirl.

Spectators were barred from the courtroom as the girl testified, but police watched a large group of bystanders as they watched silently outside the building for the hearing to be finished.

SPIRITED OUT BACK WAY
Avoiding the group outside, police hustled Wehn out the back door and into a car to take him back to the county jail. He will be arraigned next Friday in superior court here.

Wehn was arrested by District Attorney's Investigator Robert Sandon after the girl had told the officer her story of having been lured into the school basement and attacked by the crossing guard. Justice of the Peace A. C. Early held him to answer to the high court after hearing the child tell her story from the witness stand.

REVAMP PLAYGROUND PLAN
Meanwhile La Habra school officials revamped their recreation plan, fearful that parents might keep their children away from the playgrounds as a result of the incident. They will not ask assignment of another WPA worker, but will retain Duane Shively, director, as head of the entire program.

"The crowd didn't make any threats that I saw," said Deputy District Attorney Harold McCabe. "They were excluded from the courtroom principally because the little girl was going to testify." But the officers, speeding Wehn away from the court as soon as the hearing closed, didn't take any chances.

MAE'S MATE TO ASK 50-50 SPLIT

NEW YORK. (P)—Having won recognition from Mae West of his marriage to her in 1911, Frank Wallace, dancer, today prepared to demand a half share in the movie actress' reputed $3,000,000 fortune.

Samuel J. Siegel, his attorney, said that "next week we expect to apply for an injunction that will tie up all of Miss West's property in California."

In demanding a 50-50 division of Miss West's fortune, Siegel said he would contend all of her property transfers without Wallace's signature were illegal. He claimed the actress had offered Wallace $30,000 to forget about the ceremony.

HEAT CLAIMS 56 VICTIMS

CHICAGO. (P)—The death toll from the season's longest heat wave mounted steadily today as the sun-baked northern tier of states looked in vain for relief.

At least 56 persons succumbed to the heat that extended from the Atlantic coast to eastern Washington.

There were hundreds of prostrations.

Air Show Stimulates Flying Interest

Aviation enthusiasts who believe Santa Ana is destined to become a great aviation center had another reason to add to their arguments today.

Since the first annual air show was staged at the Martin airport, interest in flying has boomed to new heights, according to Dale Deckert, local representative of the National Aeronautical association.

This interest has resulted in the biggest class of students at the airport in years.

GIRL FLIER

Fourteen students have soloed in recent weeks, including one girl flier. The girl is Eleanor Redmond, Santa Ana, employed in the county welfare department office as an investigator. She is the first girl student to solo at the local airport this year.

The 14 students who have flown by themselves are working for their private pilot licenses. An inspector from the United States department of aviation will be at the local airport July 23 to give examinations for these licenses, it was announced.

Besides Miss Redmond, students who have soloed are George Shaffer, Newport Beach; H. H. Stephens, Hugh B. Rawles, Dolores Cuadros, Willard J. Chiego, Eldon Eby, Ray Buemann, Ted Martin and Wesley Farney, of Santa Ana; Tony Arevalo and Kenneth Goyer, Garden Grove; Vincent Goodness, Costa Mesa, and Dwight Nott, Santa Ana.

OTHER STUDENTS

Besides the 14 students who have soloed, there are 17 new students of flying at the airport. These are Ervin Ahlert, Santa Ana; W. C. Booter, Santa Ana; Bill Burgess, Santa Ana; Frank Brown, Orange; Gordon Carter, Santa Ana; Frank DeMara, El Modena; Carl Downs, Santa Ana; Howard Faxon, Santa Ana; Clarence Freeman, Pomona; Dr. W. N. Leck, Santa Ana; A. H. Lowell, Costa Mesa; H. C. Lindstrom, Anaheim; Ardell Sawyer, Santa Ana; George Stickler, Santa Ana; Kenneth Schroeder, Santa Ana; John Willcutt, Costa Mesa, and Harold Thelsson, Santa Ana.

LAW'S LONG ARM GETS GIBSON

An unusually long arm of the law reached clear of from Fayetteville, Ark., and joined with the grasp of Santa Ana police officers yesterday to push Lawrence D. Gibson, alias Lawrence Mayes, into the county jail.

Gibson was arrested in Fullerton last Saturday on a hit and run charge after he had become involved in an accident in which a person was injured.

Next day Chief Howard received Lewis of Fayetteville, a little a telegram from Sheriff Herbert county seat in Northwest Arkansas, asking him to arrest Gibson or Mayes who had a six-year term for forgery and escape awaiting him, according to the sheriff.

Assistant Chief Harry Fink and Detective Lieut. Charles Wolford arrested Gibson in a Santa Ana cafe where he was working. He said he was living at the Palace hotel.

Arraigned in Judge K. E. Morrison's court yesterday, Gibson signed a waiver of extradition and the charge of hit and run driving was dropped. The Fayetteville sheriff was asked to "come and get him." In the meanwhile Gibson is being kept in jail, with bail set at $10,000.

SEEKS TO BEAT WPA SLASH

A new drive to place Orange county WPA workers in private employment was launched today.

Dan Mulhaddon, manager of the division of operations, told The Journal his plan is to act quickly to get jobs for WPA workers in private industry and agriculture before anticipated quota reductions become effective.

Two WPA coordinators are in the field, Mulhaddon said, seeking to find all private jobs possible for the WPA workers.

George P. Bodnar, 28; Marie E. Mann, 24, Los Angeles. Jesus A. Espinoza, 21, Bakersfield; Maria Paz Acosta, 27, San Gabriel. James Elliott Hileman, Jr., 29; Barbara Shields Ward, 20, Los Angeles. Charles John Lencerville, 23; Edyth Laura De Witt, 17, Cypress, Calif. Clarence Everett Margarrill, 36; Los Angeles; Mildred Pearl Munger, 23, Roscoe, Calif. Willis De Witt Peebles, 36; Katherine Stansbury, 31, Los Angeles. Alex Sugarman, 29; Mildred Mullenbaker, 36, Los Angeles.

FILL JOBS RAPIDLY

Mulhaddon said there are lots of jobs in private fields, and that workers now on WPA are going to them rapidly. The plan is working out satisfactorily, Mulhaddon declared. The WPA also is working with the National Reemployment Service along the same lines.

Instructions received from the state WPA headquarters have announced reductions in quotas each 15 days, but no figures on what the proposed reductions will be in Orange county have been received, Mulhaddon said.

BELOW QUOTA

No new quotas have been set. The quota in Orange county for May was 2670. This county, however, has made under its quota for many months. Recent reductions, Mulhaddon said, have been due to natural absorption of WPA workers in private fields.

The WPA rolls today listed a total of 1096 in the construction division and 487 in the PTWW division, as compared with 1139 and 466, respectively, on the first of the month. The high point in case load this year was in April, when the total was $2528 for both departments.

FRENCH FACING NEW HIGH TAXES

PARIS. (AP)—Forty-five million Frenchmen began to mold their economic lives to a new pattern today—one decreed by the second People's Front government to wipe out a regular budget deficit of some 8,000,000,000 francs (about $308,800,000).

The average citizen awoke to find his taxes and costs of living increased and his government arranging to increase railway fares and freight rates.

The council of ministers, under Premier Camille Chautemps, last night published the sweeping financial decree to replenish the treasury by a total of 10,500,000,000 francs (about $410,000,000) and thus meet the fiscal emergency that brought the downfall of the first Popular Front premier, Leon Blum.

Some of the results under this new economic decree are:

The French citizen must pay one-fifth more income tax than last year, if he earns 20,000 francs (about $760) or more a year.

Telephone bills were increased about one-third.

Fuel for motor trucks was increased in price.

NEW SPONSORS FOR AMOS, ANDY

NEW YORK. (AP)—Amos and Andy, who have been on the networks under the same sponsor since 1929, have signed a new contract that will change their sponsor, the National Broadcasting company announced today.

The new sponsor is the Campbell Soup company, which replaces the Pepsodent company.

The new contract, for a three-year period, becomes effective at the end of their present arrangement next Jan. 3 and will continue them on the WEA-FMBC under the same schedule and the same general type of program.

The amount they are to receive was not revealed, but it was said to be an increase over their reported current figure of $200,000 per year.

Amos and Andy, who are Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll, first started broadcasting in 1925 over WGN, Chicago, as Sam and Henry.

Begin Building At Edison School

Construction work on the last unit of the Edison school, long-awaited by parents of school children, was under way today.

Contract for construction of four classrooms and administration offices has been awarded to Stark and Schmidt, local building contractors, by the board of education.

A building permit for $27,000 was issued for the job yesterday by Building Inspector Harold Rasmussen. The contract held by Stark and Schmidt is for $22,800. The balance of the money will go for plumbing, painting and similar work.

Gray Prefers to Stay Out of Jail

E. L. Gray of Santa Ana, known as the justice court's "best customer," today decided to make an effort to keep from going to jail again.

He pleaded not guilty to charges of vagrancy and disturbing the peace. His trial was set for July 15 by Judge K. E. Morrison.

Gray, the jail records show, has spent some seven Christmases behind bars.

King George has decorated three old servants at Buckingham Palace.

Townsend Notices

Newly elected officers of Townsend club No. 10 will be sworn in by District Manager J. H. Walsh at a meeting at 7:30 this evening in the Unitarian church at Eighth and Bush streets. Col. Ralph D. Horton of Los Angeles will be the speaker, and the Hurd-Lentz orchestra will furnish the musical program. R. D. Marks is the new president of the club.

Townsend News, Views

By
WALTER R. ROBB

Every Townsendite in Orange county should hear Col. Ralph D. Horton, who will speak in the Unitarian church at Eighth and Broadway at 7:30 this evening. The Hurd-Lentz orchestra will prelude the speaking with a concert. The meeting will be under the sponsorship of Santa Ana Club No. 10 with R. E. Marks, president, in charge. Colonel Horton is one of the finest speakers on the Townsend lecture bureau in Southern California. The public is invited.

Mrs. Belle Spangler, of the Orange County Welfare department will address Santa Ana Club No. 7 at 7:30 this evening in the Orange Avenue Christian church at McFadden and Orange streets. Mrs. Spangler will discuss present methods in vogue with the welfare department and will outline certain changes which will take place after Sept. 1 when the new law pertaining to state aged assistance becomes operative. The public is invited to attend.

Dr. Francis E. Townsend is back in Chicago and Representative Harry Sheppard is in Washington after having winged their way back to their spheres of activity. They came to the Pacific coast and set in motion certain influences which will eventually in harvests which neither will be able to disclaim were resultant of their own sowing. In the 139th Psalm David describes the inability of man to escape from the presence and influence of God. He might have added that it is impossible for men to escape the harvests of their own actions.

We live in an age of great change. Men's thoughts have been giving diligent search for methods by which the whole human family might come into a condition of greatly increased social betterment. Different schools of thought have been formulated and convictions have been crystallized in men's minds and hearts. Champions have arisen for each of these contending forces. Each believes his method best and each strives to make his influence felt in the obtaining of the social objectives sought.

There are differences of opinion as to the matter of objectives themselves. With such a condition prevailing it is not strange that bitterness and conflict should occur between men of strong purpose and will. Such has happened in the relationships of Dr. Townsend and Harry Sheppard.

Such conflicts are not new to the world when social advances are taking place. All social advances have had to be obtained at a cost of shoving aside some of its intended friends. Such selections are being made now. Mr. Sheppard is right or he is wrong. The same can be said of Dr. Townsend. Time will make its decision. With unerring good judgment it always in the end places the laurels of greatness made, on the man, or set of men most entitled to such emoluments. Only when men and their actions are viewed from an historical distance can their best and true worth be determined with precision.

Men sometimes think that by the force of their determination and efforts in a given direction that they can overcome that immutable law which causes harvests to be reaped which harmonize with the character and spirit of life and efforts expended, but they never do. In the final analysis the chickens of their own raising always come home to roost. Jesus understood the workings of this law when he asked: "Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?"

So the writer of this column would point out that in the end justice will be meted out to all parties connected with the present disturbances within the Townsend movement. He would go even further and say that even the enemies of the Townsend plan movement will in the proper time be rightly catalogued and made manifest to men. Paul the apostle knew far better than do many of his brethren who now live 2000 years later the importance of being of a steadfast purpose. "Being not weary in well doing, knowing in due season ye shall reap if ye faint not," is still good philosophy for human practice. In our present day vernacular we would say, "Keep on sawing wood if you want to have a wood pile."

There is plenty of evidence that the Townsend plan wood pile is growing. The writer thinks the evidence is plain that Dr. Townsend and his followers have done some mighty good sowing. The business men of the nation are beginning to sense that it was the doctor and his plan which has crystallized the thought of the nation to the need of old age annuities. They have not yet grasped the practicality of his money circulating method as a medium of giving permanent stability to a generous prosperity out of which continuous business profits can come, but one of these days there will be a general landslide of public opinion favorable to the adoption of the plan. Then they will study the two per cent transaction tax revolving money method and discover the soundness of Dr. Francis E. Townsend's recovery plan. Perhaps when that day arrives the doctor will have already gone on to a reward which he could not wait to receive here. In the meantime in the language of a knowing philosopher the doctor and his followers "must learn to labor and to wait."

The Victoria falls on the Zambesi river in Southern Rhodesia are said to be the greatest natural spectacle in South Africa.

L.A. COUNTY TO BUILD OFFICES

Plans Structure To Cost $3,000,000

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—The first step toward possible erection of a $3,000,000 county office building was taken yesterday when the board of supervisors instructed William J. Fox, director of the county building department, to apply to the Works Progress administration for a 40 per cent allotment of the cost.

Members also announced the board is prepared to place $1,500,000 in the county budget to finance its share of the proposed building.

If this is done, it would mean an increase in the tax rate of 7 cents on each $100 valuation, but Roger Jessup, board chairman, claimed the building eventually would save taxpayers' money.

Oregon Woman, 90, Routs Hungry Thief From Home

MOLLALA, Ore. (AP)—A burglar failed to ruffle "Aunt Mary" Robbins, 90, when he entered her home.

Undaunted, she demanded: "What are you doing here?" "I want something to eat," the man said.

"Now you get right out of here, and come around and ask for it right. Git!"

The prowler fled through the open window, where "jimmy" marks indicated he had made his entrance.

ACADEMY TOO HARD FOR NEGRO

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Representative Mitchell (D., Ill.) announced that negro Midshipman George J. Trivers had resigned from the naval academy because he found he could not do a midshipman's work.

Mitchell, the only negro member of congress, appointed Trivers to the academy.

The congressman said, after a talk with Capt. Forde A. Todd, acting academy superintendent, that there had been no unpleasantness surrounding Triver's resignation.

A year ago Mitchell charged that another negro midshipman he appointed had been railroaded out of the academy.

Margett Seeks Court Appearance Of Dr. Townsend

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Frank J. Mahoney, attorney for Edward J. Margett, has asked a superior court citation against Dr. Francis E. Townsend.

Mahoney asked an order be issued directing the founder of the Townsend plan movement to show cause why he should not be punished for not appearing to file a deposition in Margett's $300,000 libel suit against Dr. Townsend. The court deferred action until Aug. 8.

MINORS HIT IN GIN RULING

Purchase of Liquor Is Now a Misdemeanor

Minors who purchase alcoholic beverages or consume liquor are committing a misdemeanor, according to the revised alcoholic beverage control act. This point was stressed today by Ray Edgar, member of the state board of equalization for Southern California, in requesting public cooperation in enforcing the law.

Heretofore, only those who sold liquor to minors were prosecuted. With the new ruling, minors as well as the sellers, will be punished.

"Now the juvenile who purchases, or consumes liquor even though he may not have purchased it, is considered equally guilty," Edgar said. "The board, anxious to reduce drinking among juveniles to the lowest possible minimum, hopes to accomplish this through the new law and the cooperation of the public."

Edgar also stressed another ruling which makes it obligatory for persons to destroy empty distilled spirits bottles. "Such bottles cannot be possessed, or used for any purpose, nor can they be bought, sold or given away. They must be destroyed," Edgar said.

FLIERS HAVE MONTH'S FOOD

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Amelia Earhart and Fred Noonan apparently could live for a month or more if they landed on an equatorial islet as searchers believed today.

They were the only ones who knew exactly what food supplies they carried in their "flying laboratory," but their known larder would supply rations, however meager, for weeks.

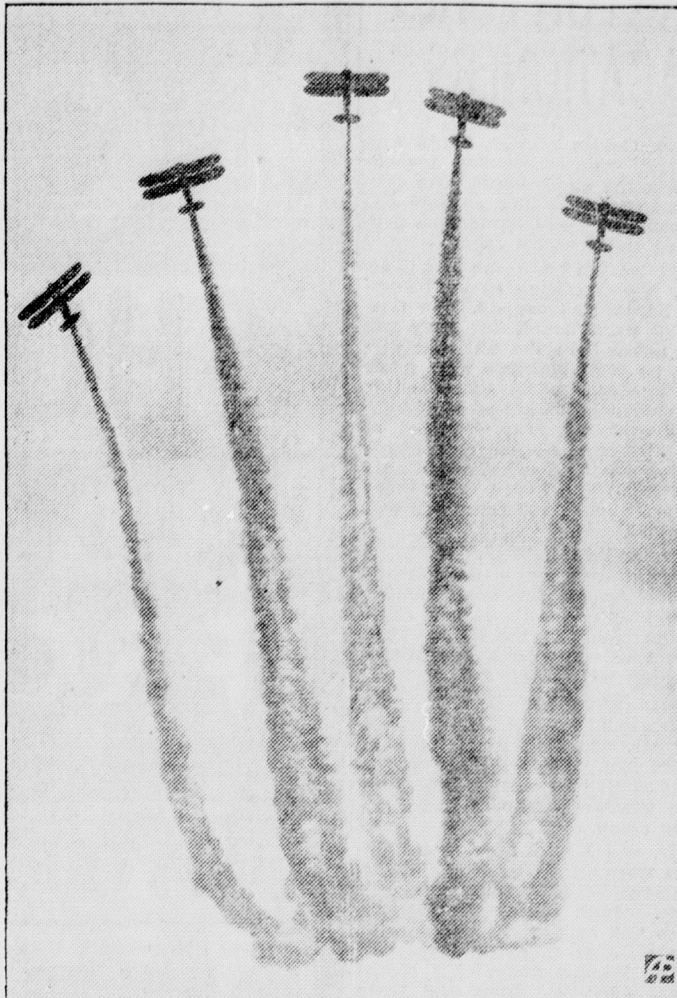

The plane carried chocolate bars, tomato juice, concentrated foods, considerable water, fishing tackle and most important, a machine to vaporize drinking water from the ocean.

With any luck at fishing and continued operation of the vaporizing machine they could subsist indefinitely.

Zooming skyward, these planes in a Royal Air Force display at Duxford Station, England, made an impressive sight as they spewed a heavy smoke screen during the sharp climb. The king was present to review the air force.

Bad Posture May Cause Sterility, Claims Doctor

CHICAGO. (AP)—The American Osteopathic Association was told here that poor posture may cause sterility in both men and women.

"Reason for this," said Dr. W. F. Rossmann, Grove City, Pa., in an address to the association's convention, "lies in the fact that a body in faulty mechanical adjustment cannot function normally because vital nerve and blood channels are partially obstructed."

Where this situation occurs in the region of the reproductive organs, complete sterility is often a result.

Death Claims San Diego Judge

SAN DIEGO. (AP)—C. N. Andrews, 77, for 22 years a local superior court judge, died yesterday at his home here.

Andrews came to San Diego about 30 years ago from Mankato, Minn. He was appointed to the superior court bench by Governor Hiram Johnson in 1913. He served continuously until his resignation more than a year ago.

BUDGET SAVING PLEDGES MADE

U. S. Agency Chiefs Agree on 10 Per Cent

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Heads of 28 independent federal agencies promised President Roosevelt at a White House conference yesterday to do all they could to save 10 per cent of their current fiscal year appropriations.

The President had asked all departments and agencies to make the 10 per cent slash effort in the hope that $400,000,000 could be saved and the budget balanced by the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 1938.

Those attending the conference represented agencies getting appropriations direct from congress. Representatives of the Works Progress and Public Works administration, which obtain their funds through presidential allotments, sat in as observers, as did Secretary Morgenthau and Daniel W. Bell, acting budget director.

AVIATRIX WILL STAY OVER LAND

BENTONVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Louise Thaden, 1936 Bendix trophy winner, may seek new aviation laurels over dry land, but she will not attempt a transoceanic hop such as that sent her friend, Amelia Earhart, and Frederick J. Noonan, into the South Pacific.

"I'm a sissy," Mrs. Thaden said at her home here. "I never have flown over water and I don't intend to. I just don't like the idea. I may enter the Bendix race again this fall and I certainly expect to continue flying until I get too old to crawl into a cockpit."

Unfilled Plane Orders Set Mark

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Lockheed Aircraft Corp. reports a new high record of unfilled orders, totaling $3,370,000 as of June 30. The company delivered 47 planes in the first half of the year, compared with 14 in the 1936 half year.

ALIENISTS TO STUDY SLAYER

Confessed Slayer of Girls Pleads Monday

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Three alienists today probed the mind and emotional make-up of Albert Dyer, the 32-year-old WPA school crossing guard who is charged with the murder of three Inglewood girls.

The prisoner will plead next Monday, his attorney, Public Defender Frederic H. Vercoe, having been granted a postponement to give him more time in which to study the case.

Vercoe's motion for the court to appoint three alienists to examine the defendant resulted in the selection of Drs. S. M. Marcus, Edson H. Steele and W. H. Worley.

Investigators continued their search for more tangible evidence to link Dyer to the slaying of Madeline Everett, 7, her sister, Melba, 9, and Jeanette Stephens, 8, in the Baldwin hills near Inglewood June 26. Dyer has confessed he lured the children into the hills on a pretext he was taking them rabbit hunting. Killed them and violated their bodies.

Ironically, Dyer last night was paid $27.50 by the government—a check for his services in escorting school children across streets.

Nazis Warned To Seek Out Foes

FRANKFURT-AM-MAIN, Germany. (AP)—The threat of "state enemy" hangs over all who fail to report any notice of the slightest possible trend toward "subversive or disruptive spirit" in Nazi Germany, Jakob Spengler of Frankfurt warned at a meeting here.

Admitting that it would take years, if not decades, to cement pure Nazi thinking and philosophy in the minds of every German, he said that negligence of the "watch work" was comparable with failure to do one's duty at one's job.

Indian Camps Made Mountain Bald

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—The bald spots on mountains of high altitude, says Dr. E. W. Wells of North Carolina State college, were brought on by Indian camps of a former day.

In the opinion of Dr. Wells the Indian camps gave mountain oak-grass and sedge a chance to gain a foothold and once these grasses got started, they were able to "freeze out" all trees, shrubs, and other vegetation normally growing at those high altitudes.

The conference, he said, would consider "a continuous and progressive series of air activities" in grade and high schools, and college aeronautical courses.

COURT RULES MOTHER CAN'T BE JAILED FOR NON-SUPPORT

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—The state appellate court had ruled today that Mrs. Pearl Kennedy Carpenter could not be imprisoned for failure to support her four children, and ordered the woman freed from jail on a writ of habeas corpus.

No one is responsible for the four children, the court ruled in effect, except the state of California which will continue to care for them at the detention home here.

The situation which made virtual orphans of Ruby, 13; Donald, 11, and the 8-year-old twins, Richard and Raymond, was created by Mrs. Carpenter's divorce from John Kennedy and subsequent marriage to Charles T. Carpenter.

Ruby, Donald, Richard and Raymond are freed of a mother, father and a stepfather, but have acquired the state of California.

U. S. WILL BUY WATER RIGHTS

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Secretary Ickes announced today "substantial agreement" with Miller and Lux, Inc., large California land holders, for the acquisition of the company's water rights on the San Joaquin river required for the Central Valley project.

The secretary approved an appraisal of $2,450,000 submitted by the special board of consulting appraisers for the project.

The purchase of the water rights, however, will not be completed until a study of all the San Joaquin river rights has been made by the bureau of reclamation.

Miller and Lux, Inc., has offered to sell its rights for $2,500,000.

COMET SWINGS TOWARD EARTH

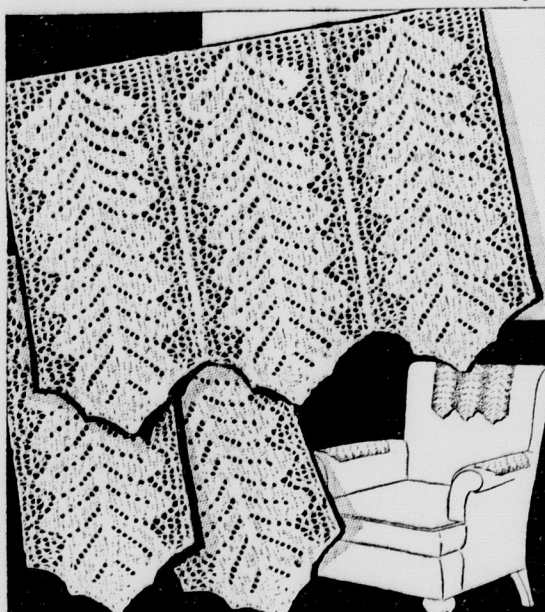

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Harvard university astronomers predicted today a large comet, discovered a few days ago by a Swiss astronomer, would swing steadily nearer the earth until early in August, becoming visible to the unaided eye late this month.

Dr. Fred L. Whipple, of the Harvard observatory, said Leland Cunningham, a member of the conservatory staff, had made computations which indicated the comet would approach within about 50 million miles of the earth—about twice as close as the sun.

The comet, discovered by Dr. P. Finsler of Zurich, Switzerland, has been observed by widely scattered observatories for three and a half days.

The first four months of last year: Murder, 395, an increase of 73; burglary, 22,207, an increase of 2860; rape, 573, an increase of 152; auto thefts, 16,553, an increase of 1902; aggravated assault cases, 3053, an increase of 356; manslaughter by negligence, 347, an increase of 143; and larcenies, 55,904, an increase of 8932.

Remember Art Stranske? The big blond, who was the Santa Ana Saints' iron-man in track and a fair fullback in the fall, quit U. S. C. and sailed for Hawaii in February.

His friends didn't know what he was up to until Stranske enrolled at the University of Honolulu. Now he's a big shot on the islands.

A standout in track, Stranske also made a hit in spring grid practice. He's spending the summer working in a pineapple factory.

Kenneth Miller, the man behind the Elks' football club, will spring a genuine surprise on fans in the near future. No, it does not concern the City league. Watch for it!

"This is the wildest I've been all season," remarked Stan Jacobsmeyer, recruit from Riverside's defunct club, after his 5-3 loss to San Bernardino here Tuesday night.

"I was throwing too many low and wild balls, but you have to keep 'em low to your boots," explained Jacobsmeyer to Manager "Doc" Smith of the Stars, "or else those hard-hitting guys will park 'em in the bleachers."

We can be wrong, but this department expects Jacobsmeyer to win at Orange with the utmost ease tonight. Anaheim should score at Westminster in the only other games of this week's round.

Reminder: Do not forget the County Nightball league's annual barbecue at the Foster Rancho in San Juan Capistrano Sunday. Everyone is invited at 50 cents per plate.

"All you can eat and plenty of entertainment" is the way Walt Collins, league secretary, is advertising it.

In case you fishermen missed it, here's an angling joke that brought more than one chuckle in these columns the other day:

Two Welshmen were fishing about two miles from the shore. They had an excellent catch.

Thomas said to David: "We'd better mark the spot in case we come out tomorrow!"

On reaching shore, Thomas asked, "Did you mark the place?"

"Yes," said David, "I put a (See COPYWRITING, Page 9)

Jenkins Eyes New Speed Marks; Jure Wins Amateur Finale Here

CLAIMS 146 RECORDS

Utah Salt Flats Are Scene of New Race Attempts This Month

SALT LAKE CITY. (AP)—Ab Jenkins, claimant to 146 speed records, proposes to begin his 1937 assault upon land travel marks at the Bonneville Salt Flats late this month.

Vern Woodhead, chamber of commerce assistant secretary, said Jenkins informed him he will leave Connerville, Ind., for Utah Saturday to set up camp at the Saline race course 100 miles west of here July 15. He will go after all automobile distance speed records from five miles to the 48-hour distance, using the same car he had last year but with a more powerful motor. He is confident he can increase the present 24-hour record of 153.777 miles an hour and also the 48-hour mark of 148.63 miles an hour he set up last year.

The Utah man's principal speed rival, Capt. G. E. T. Eyston of London, Eng., has requested permission to race on the salt beds.

The three established courses, one circle of 12½ miles and two of 10 miles each, are drying rapidly and may be ready for use within two weeks, he added.

ESCONDIDO VS. ORANGE GALS

The Lionettes of Orange, one of the strongest girl softball collections in the state, will play the Escondido nine at the Orange city park at 8:15 tomorrow night.

A suitable opponent could not be found and the team was idle last night, but three games are booked for the Orange Lions' standard-bearers next week.

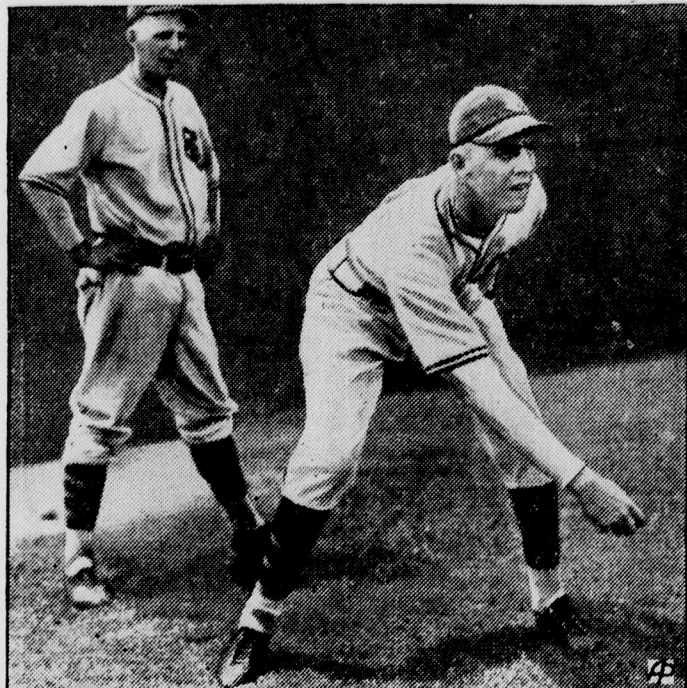

The Coco Cola nine comes to Orange Monday night, the Fiedler Field Nickabos Thursday and the San Diego Crammers Saturday.

With the exception of Sally Hoffman, now Mrs. Sally Heman, Escondido has the same club that upset the Lionettes last summer.

Orange will pit its full strength against the invaders, which means the cannonball southpaw, Lois Terry, will be on the firing line.

With Phyllis Tucker behind the plate, Ruth Lee will be at first, Pal Collins on second, Gertrude Amling at shortstop and Wilma Potter at third. Outfield starters will be Phoebe Miller in left, Melba Estes in center, Vivienne Amos in right. Mary Perkins will alternate with Miss Terry.

Schoolboy Strikeout Star Signs

Les Mueller, 18-year-old Illinois high school strikeout king, who has been signed by the Detroit Tigers.

By AP FEATURE SERVICE

Les Mueller, 18-year-old right-hander just graduated from Belleville, Ill., high school, is the latest youngster to be described as another Bob Feller. Mueller, signed by the Detroit Tigers, carries 175 pounds on a 6-foot-1½ inch frame. In seven high school games of seven innings each he average 18 strikeouts per game. Two were no-hit shutouts. He also fanned 30 men in a 12-inning victory. In the picture, he's shown with Ernest (Dutch) Lorbeer, manager of the Sioux City Cowboys of the Western League, who has been asked by the Detroit management to determine just where, in the Tiger system, he will fit best. KNOCKOUT FOR ARMSTRONG

Blatch of Australia Lasts Only 3 Rounds

NEW YORK. (AP)—New York got another look at Henry Armstrong last night, and Henry gave New York something to look at.

The little brown man from the Pacific coast stopped Alb Blatch, an Australian lightweight, in three rounds in Madison Square Garden.

Little Henry won at 1:21 of the third round when Blatch hit the canvas under the impact of a short right, and Referee Billy Cavanaugh stopped the bout.

Blatch was on the floor twice in the first round and three times in the second.

The victory gives the coast negro added prestige in metropolitan ring circles. In two previous bouts here he knocked out Mike Belois and cut up Aldo Spoliti.

His entrance into the big time further complicates the lightweight class, already booming, with a Pedro Montanez-Lou Ambers in the offing.

MIDGET RACING RECORD SET

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Karl Young, ambitious bridegroom of a week, set a new track record in winning the 50-lap midget auto feature at Gilmore stadium last night.

Young finished in 13 minutes 35.95 seconds, 14 seconds faster than Sam Hanks' mark set several weeks ago. Hanks held the lead until the 26th lap and trailed Young closely thereafter.

Lou Schneider was third, Peevée Distare fourth and Bob Swenson, back from Indianapolis, was fifth.

HARBOR HOLDS BIG REGATTA

NEWPORT HARBOR. (AP)—Scores of "half-pint" boats were named today to sail in the annual "flight of the snowbirds" regatta Sunday over Newport bay.

Chairman Harry B. Stewart of Riverside said the field would probably double the last year's 53.

Defending champion, with heavy odds placed against a second triumph, is Dick McKibben of Los Angeles, sailing the Wa Wa.

DOUG MAY, 15, ELIMINATED

Fifteen-year-old Douglas May, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. May of Santa Ana, made a gallant bid in his first golf tournament at the California Country club, but lost in the first round to Harry LeBaron, Jr., of La Jolla, 6 to 5.

Santa Ana Country club observers thought their standard-bearer, youngest boy in the tournament, did well to qualify for the championship flight.

GERMAN DAVIS CUPPERS WIN

BERLIN. (AP)—Heinrich Henkel sent Germany away to a lead over Czechoslovakia today as the two nations began their three-day clash in the European zone finals of Davis Cup tennis competition.

Henkel defeated Ladislav Hecht, 6-1, 7-5, 7-5, in the opening singles test.

FIGHT PICTURES AT PRINCESS

Round-by-round description of Joe Louis' knockout over Jim Braddock in the eighth at Chicago will be shown at the Princess theater on East Fourth street today and tomorrow. Manager Harold Simpson announced. The fight pictures will be shown in addition to the regular program, at no increase in prices.

Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. McClure Win Country Club Golf

Mrs. L. H. Robinson and Mrs. B. W. McClure, 91-14-77, won two-ball foursomes for women at the Santa Ana Country club yesterday.

Fourth-round matches in the annual President's cup tournament for men must be completed by Sunday night. Jack Robinson, U. S. C. football player, and M. N. (Nick) Thompson, county food control engineer and defending champion, are among the favorites.

REDLANDS ACE TURNS PRO

Grayson Loses Close Fight Here; Heavies Riot at 101 Arena

By KENNETH ADAMS

Everett (Cyclone) Jure, colorful fighting Frenchman from Redlands, fought his last fight as an amateur last night at the Orange County Athletic club—and won.

He took the decision over colored Al Grayson, Los Angeles, state amateur welterweight champion. Many fans disagreed with the decision, but it was close.

Jure poured left hooks into Grayson in the final frame, the hardest fought round he has fought for months. Jure turns professional when he fights French Chacon in Los Angeles tonight.

Fans went out to the scrap-house to see some fight. They did, but they saw a riot besides. It was staged by two big boys, Brett Hazard of Ontario, and colored Tiger Adams, Los Angeles. It was the first time Hazard was in the ring, but he got that Tiger.

FOUGHT LIKE TIGER

Adams really came out and fought like a tiger the first minute of the opening stanza. He clawed and slashed at Hazard until Hazard bumped him down for an eight-count, surprising even himself. The negro uncorked a wicked left that landed flush on Hazard's jaw, and the white boy was down.

When the second round opened the clumsy but powerful Hazard smacked the Tiger down for a second time. The negro got up fighting, and then Hazard to the canvas. Hazard was groggy, but kept swinging those big fists.

When the round ended he was out on his feet, but fighting. The white boy's head cleared during the rest period, and he went in to bump the negro on the jaw.

The Tiger hit the floor hard and stayed down for nine. He was knocked down twice more and then out for keeps. It was a brawl from start to finish.

USED DIRTY TACTICS

Johnny Castillo, Los Angeles, used plenty dirty tactics to defeat Jimmy Dugan of Santa Ana. Castillo dumped Dugan in the third, and then hit him several times while he was down. Dugan got an extra rest, but was groggy in the fourth and lost.

Jay Hastings, the Orange scrapper, fought a game and willing fight against Jimmy Casino, Los Angeles, but dropped the decision.

Frank Rangel, Pomona, defeated Gordon Drake, Los Angeles, in a hit-and-run affair. Ontario's Sal Baca won over Louie Robles, Los Angeles, in a slam-bang fight.

Lino Rivera, Los Angeles, knocked Benny Garcia, Santa Ana, lost by a technical kayo in the third, losing to Johnny Martinez, Los Angeles.

FARR MUST BOX ME--MOXIE

LONDON. (AP)—Max Schmeling, arriving here today from Berlin, said he "insisted" that Tommy Farr, British empire heavyweight champion, should fight him before meeting World Champion Joe Louis.

The German tentatively had been scheduled to meet Farr here in August or September. However, Farr entered into negotiations with American promoter Mike Jacobs, who announced in New York yesterday that Louis and the Briton would meet at the Yankee stadium Aug. 26.

Alcanter, Vaughn Battle Tonight On Legion Card

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Joey Alcanter, Kansas City lightweight, and Jimmy Vaughn of Cleveland, who fought a hectic draw at the Legion stadium a month ago, appear in a return 10-round bout tonight.

Many thought Vaughn had an edge in the original encounter following a knockdown in the early stages, but the sturdy Mexican boy finished strong.

Bob Mattick Disappears in Los Angeles; Padres Rise

Third-place San Diego was only a game and a half behind the Pacific Coast league leader, the Sacramento Solons, today after beating the San Francisco Missions, 7 to 2, as Sacramento bowed to Seattle, 3 to 1 and Los Angeles trimmed San Francisco, 5 to 2.

Los Angeles defeated the Seals with a makeshift infield last night when the Angels' hard-playing shortstop, Bobby Mattick, mysteriously disappeared before the game.

Mattick's roommate catcher Rip Collins, said he believed Mattick was headed for his home in St. Louis and blamed an "unfortunate" love affair for his disappearance.

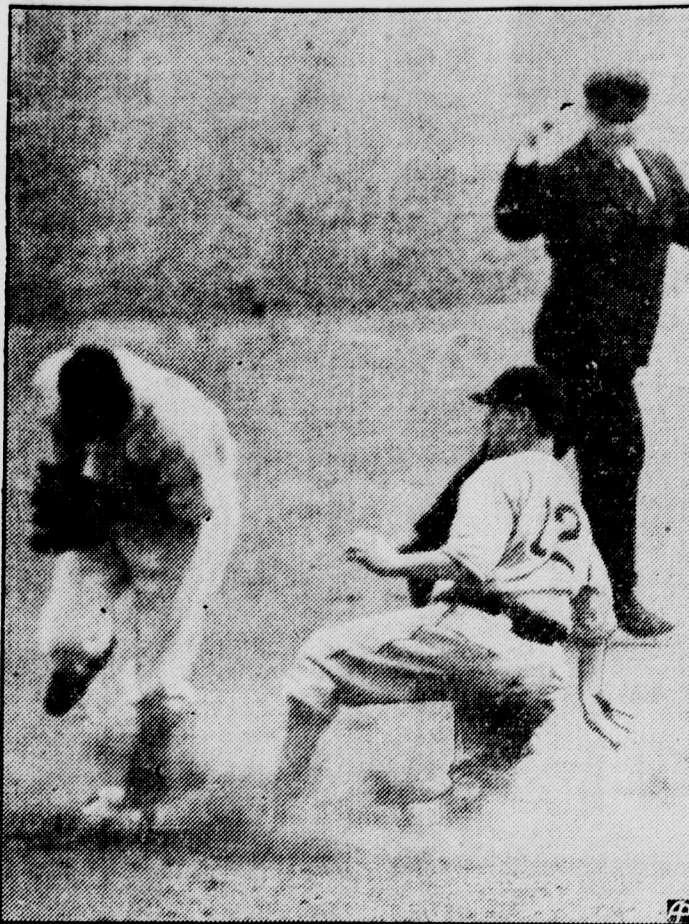

The Portland Beavers' winning streak last night, blanking them 4 to 0 in a well-played game. Bill Fosdel limited the Oaks to six hits and fanned six. Floyd Olds, Osk hurler, was nicked for 10 hits.

Sensational fielding by the Coscarart brothers, Pete and Steve, played an important part in keeping the Oaks scoreless. Pete made

BRITISH DAVIS CUPPER ILL

LONDON. (AP)—Great Britain's hopes of retaining the Davis cup, emblem of international tennis supremacy, were dealt a crushing blow today when George Patrick Hughes withdrew from the squad because of a breakdown, following over-exertion and strain. He will be replaced by Frank H. D. Wilde

Arky Vaughan Poles First of 13 Hits

Floyd (Arky) Vaughan, Fullerton's sensational shortstop with the Pittsburgh Pirates, cracked out the first of 13 hits for his team in the all-star game in Washington, D. C., but Joe Medwick forced him at second for the third out of the first inning. Gehrig of the American league is shown making the play at second, with Umpire Quinn of the same league waving Vaughan out. The American league won, 8 to 3.

RAINSTORM IS BIG HAZARD

England's Star Bags Second Laurels in Past Three Seasons

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland. (AP) Tall Henry Cotton, famed British professional, won the British Open gold championship today for the second time in three years, posting 290 for the 72-hole tournament after a heavy rainstorm threatened for a time to force re-play of the final round.

CARNOSTIE, Scotland. (AP)—The possibility that rain might force the tournament committee to cancel the entire fourth round was all that kept Henry Cotton, 1934 titleholder, from being acclaimed as the new British Open gold champion here today.

Cotton, who was England's favorite from the start of the first qualifying round last Monday, lived up to that position this afternoon as, in the face of one of the worst downpours in tournament history, he sloshed through Carnoustie's half-submerged greens and over its boggy fairways to post a glittering 71 for a 72-hole score of 290.

That gave him a two-shot margin over English Reggie Whitcombe, 36 and 54-hole leader, with Charley Lacey, burly pro from Great Neck, N. Y., leading the American contingent a stroke further back at 295.

Charles Whitcombe, Regina's brother, was next with 294.

Yankee-Cub World Series Now More Than Pipe Dream

CINCINNATI. (AP)—Release of Charley Gelbert, veteran infielder, to the Detroit Tigers, at the waiver price, was announced today by the Cincinnati Reds.

They wheeled the big league cannon back on the firing line today, while the shots from the all-star game, particularly those exploding the argument of prize pitching over slugging, were still echoing.

From the raft of "reasons" thus expounded, these arguments stood out:

1. That the National league seems to have placed too much emphasis on the supposed unbreakable defense of its big three pitchers, and not enough on mass run production.

2. That an extra base wallop delivered with men on bases, such as those thumps by Lou Gehrig and Red Wolfe Wednesday, is still the best insurance against a whipping.

3. That the individual performances of the Yankees and Cubs in the mid-summer classic, together with their recent league doings, makes it appear, at this writing, that a New York-Chicago world series is more than a pipe-dream.

Women Wrestle May Replace Hillbilly Here

The two girl wrestlers—Clara Martinez and Lillian Nichols—who "wowed" fans at the Orange County Athletic club two weeks ago, clash in a rematch Monday night at the highway 101 arena.

Misses Martinez and Nichols were signed late yesterday by Matchmaker Tige Clinton as a special attraction on a five-bout program.

The signing of the two grappling beauties, however, sent the scheduled main event between Mountain Dean and Leo Numa into the discard unless Dean changes his mind. The bearded giant absolutely refused to wrestle on the same program with the girls, claiming they distracted from his appearance, and inasmuch as he was the attraction, he wanted everything, from top billing to the bulk of the money.

If Dean refuses to go through with the match, Clinton will send Indian Jules Strongbow out against Numa with the balance of the five-star bill unchanged. Nick Lutze meets Ignacio Martinez, Scarlet Mr. X tackles Rudy Strongberg and Hans Schultz meets Ed (Bull) White.

"Fans want to see the two girls perform again," stated Clinton, "and many who failed to see them have asked the management for a rematch, which is being done—Dean or no Dean."

SANTA ANA MEN TAKE A BOW FOR NIFTY "MAKIN'S" SMOKES!

They use that good-tasting tobacco that lays right, rolls firm

LOCAL "makin's" smokers know their rollin'. And they know "makin's" tobacco too. It's Prince Albert for them! They say the "crimp cut" is easier to handle—lays right—no spilling or bunching—rolls fast, firm.

Besides, P. A. is EXTRA-MILD due to the "no-bite" process. Taste? Just get a drag of that rich, full P. A. body. It's somethin'! (Takes the prize for pipe-smoking too!)

70 fine roll-your-own cigarettes in every 2-oz. tin of Prince Albert

BETTER TRY THIS MILD, TASTY 'MAKIN'S' TOBACCO—IT'S GOT EVERYTHING!

"PUT ME down as a 'makin's' roller for 18 years—and believe me, I haven't found another tobacco that's as smooth as P. A. for clean, rich taste and body. Yet there's not the least bit of harshness or rawness."

CITIES DEFEND HOME RULE

Municipal Leaders to Gather July 22

Home rule for cities will be discussed at the monthly meeting of the League of Orange County Municipalities at San Clemente July 22, it was announced today by Mayor Fred C. Rowland.

The announcement came following a meeting of mayors of various Orange county cities last night in Daniger's cafe here, when plans for the monthly meeting were outlined.

Mayor Rowland, who is president of the county league, said a decision was reached to discuss the necessity for protecting home rule for cities. The tendency to concentrate governmental power in state and national bodies will be discussed.

A review of bills passed by the last legislature, which were signed by the governor and which directly affect cities, will be on the program, it was announced.

Mayor Rowland, it was learned, is planning to attend a four-day annual convention of the state league at San Jose starting Sept. 13. Mayor Rowland is vice president of the mayors and councilmen's department of the state league.

CIVIL SERVICE DRIVE BEGUN

Petitions to put Santa Ana police and firemen on civil service will be distributed among registered voters next week. This was the announcement of Capt. William C. Fox today. The petition has been checked by City Attorney Lew Blodgett, and will be printed this week, Fox said.

Fox said at least 65 men will come under terms of civil service, if it is adopted. He indicated that prospects are "brighter" now than they have been.

If firemen and the police can secure the signatures of 15 per cent of the registered voters of this district the petitions will be presented to the city council for action. Under terms of a law passed in 1936 the council has authority to pass an ordinance creating civil service among the employees who have petitioned, or call a general election to determine the matter.

Fox said he thinks the council will pass an ordinance creating the condition, rather than call an election.

Fox pointed out that any new council coming into office could not nullify the action of a former council on the matter. A 75 per cent vote of the registered voters would have to be cast to nullify action taken by the council under terms of existing laws.

Assessor to Sue Tax Evaders

"These people won't come in and pay their taxes, so we'll just sue them and let them show up in court."

So said County Assessor James Sleeper today as he prepared to make Mahomet come to the mountain by filing 75 or 100 small claims and justice court suits for taxes unpaid on personal property.

The suits are being filed in Santa Ana justice court against persons, mostly out-of-county residents and those in other states, who have refused to answer letters asking them to pay their taxes. When they are sued, they will have to appear in court or have judgment entered against them. At any rate, it will save the county the expense of having deputies travel to far-away points to get in touch with tax debtors.

There will be not more than 100 suits filed, Sleeper estimated today. The number was erroneously reported as 500 by a throw-away weekly publication.

Watches Black Widows Grow

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—Vincenzo R. Gregg found a black widow spider six weeks ago—and now he's got 100 of them.

Gregg, employed in the Guyot Biological Laboratories at Princeton University, put the spider in a milk bottle.

Three weeks later the bottle was dotted with about 400 pinhead offspring. Many died, but about 100

SEWER PUZZLE UNSOLVED

Mayors of Orange county municipalities gathered around the dining table last night to smoke a peace pipe.

As executive committee members of the League of Orange County Municipalities they made arrangements for the next general meeting.

And informally, as representatives of their various cities, they talked over the disputed outfall sewer situation and agreed to agree on a program of mutual and concerted effort to settle the problem.

The mayors met in Daniger's cafe here, and decided to take steps to iron out difficulties which have caused delay in plans for reconstruction of a section of the joint outfall sewer. The matter will come to the attention of directors of the outfall sewer district board next Wednesday.

So far Santa Ana and other members of the sewer district have been unable to agree on the type of construction desired for the unit which must be reconstructed. Santa Ana wants to build it of reinforced concrete, and other cities are desirous of using vitrified clay pipe. Both sides have employed engineers to make reports on the matter.

HINT TAYLOR TO QUIT U. S. STEEL

NEW YORK. (AP)—Wall Street, where the possibility of Myron C. Taylor's appointment to a diplomatic post has been long rumored, speculated today upon a newspaper report that he expects to retire Jan. 1 as chairman of U. S. Steel Corporation. A company spokesman refused to confirm or deny the report.

In Florence, Italy, where he is vacationing, Taylor said he could not comment on the report.

The New York Herald-Tribune said Taylor's retirement "is contingent on the completion of a financing and common stock divi-

PARIS. (AP)—The Hotel Paris lost most of its 254 guests today because they had to make their own beds and cook their own meals if they stayed.

Ninety per cent of the hotel's employees went on strike. The hotel employees want a strict 40-hour week; their employers say a 5½-day week is all they can stand.

ended resumption program on which his heart is set."

The newspaper said: "It is scarcely a secret in Wall Street that Mr. Taylor would be available for appointment as ambassador to the Court of St. James if the incumbent, Robert W. Bingham, should resign."

F. D. R. EXPLAINS ECONOMY DRIVE

WASHINGTON. (AP)—President Roosevelt said today his attempt to balance the budget by June 30, 1938, by saving 10 per cent of total appropriations on flexible items would involve no discharge or furloughing of government employees.

He told a press conference he wanted to make this plain to relieve the minds of the large number of federal workers. He added he expected the largest saving would be accomplished through not filling vacancies.

The next largest saving, he said, would be effected by slowing up expenditures in certain directions

The President said other savings would be made in travel by government employees, on long distance telephone calls and elimination of unnecessary printing.

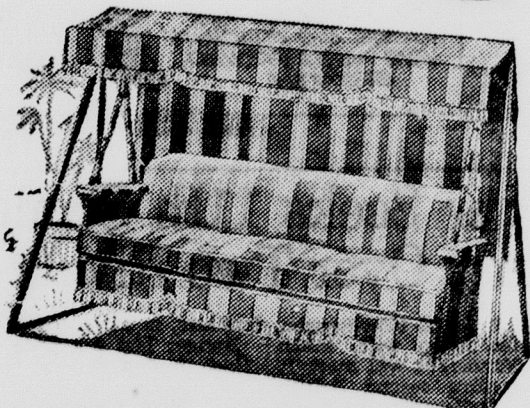

COAST VESSEL GOES ON ROCKS

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—The McCormick Steamship company's intercoastal freighter West Mahwah went aground in a dense fog early today on rugged Pescadero Point, 35 miles south of San Francisco.

The ship's master wirelessed coast guard headquarters here the craft and her crew of around 45 were in no immediate danger, but two coast guard ships were ordered to the scene.

The West Mahwah left San Francisco at 7 o'clock last night with general cargo, bound for Los Angeles. She is a craft of 3467 net tons.

AL SMITH NOT IN MAYOR RACE

Democrats Seek Man To Buck LaGuardia

NEW YORK. (AP)—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, returning from Europe yesterday, said he would not be a candidate for mayor on the Democratic ticket.

His arrival was expected possibly to clarify a confused situation in regard to the Tammany candidate resulting from the refusal of Senators Robert Wagner and Royal Copeland to run against F. H. LaGuardia, Fusion incumbent.

Almost simultaneously a group of prominent Republicans called on Mayor LaGuardia with an invitation to run again with their support, and he accepted.

Smith declined to discuss the mayoralty situation further until he heard from "official sources."

C. J. Ender Holds 'Monopoly' On No. 301 at Newport

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—C. J. Ender has one kind of a monopoly, and it's one a congressional committee will never investigate.

A check of Newport-Balboa's city directory reveals that Ender's home is at 301 Bay avenue, his meat market is at 301 Main street, and his delicatessen store is at 301 Palm street.

All he needs now is 301 for a telephone number. But that's out, because there is no 301 in the Newport exchange.

Montgomery Ward Sales Increase

CHICAGO. (AP)—Montgomery Ward & Co. announced gross sales for June, 1937, totaled $37,059,803, an increase of $6,729,629 or 22.19 per cent over June, 1936, sales of $30,330,174.

REPORT RISE OF SAVINGS

A steady rise not only in the volume of savings invested in savings and loan associations throughout the country but in the average size of the individual savings account was pointed to as "outstanding evidence of American economic recovery, permitting a more rapid increase in facilities for financing needed new American homes" by R. C. Raddant, secretary of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Santa Ana today.

According to a statement just released by the Federal Home Loan Bank board, the average savings account in 1137 reporting federal savings and loan associations on last May 31 was $736, as compared with $583 on Jan. 1, 1935.

While the board's monthly records have been showing a steady increase in the total assets of the bank system's members, a barometer as to general economic conditions—these figures on the higher average of individual accounts are cited as showing the improvement in the status of the individual saver. The average increase shown is $153 for the federal associations.

STATE HIGHWAY JOBS AWARDED

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Contracts for highway improvements were awarded yesterday by Earl Lee Kelly, state director of public works.

J. E. Hadcock, Pasadena, received the contract for applying a road-mix surface treatment to the shoulders on 28.7 miles of highway in Ventura county, on his bid of $27,851.

The work will be done on state routes 9 and 2, between route 2 and 2.5 miles east of Moorpark and between Camarillo and Beeto.

Roscoe Moss company, Los Angeles, on a bid of $1412 was awarded a contract for drilling a water supply well at the Saugus maintenance station site in Los Angeles county.

California Scouts Off for Holland

WASHINGTON. (AP)—A group of California Boy Scouts looked forward today to a trip to Holland for the world jamboree of the organization.

Prominent citizens of the Scout's home state said good-bye to them at the national jamboree, including Judge Robert H. Scott of the Los Angeles juvenile court, Oscar C. Alberson, deputy regional scout executive, Mrs. Margaret Clark of the Los Angeles board of education, and John Anson Ford of Los Angeles.

To Start Valley Electric Lines

EL CENTRO. (AP)—Work on 600 miles of rural electric lines in Imperial Valley, financed by the federal government, will start "without delay," President Evan T. Hewes of the irrigation district was informed today.

Assurance of swift launching of the project was given by John M. Carney of the Rural Electrification administration, which is advancing $700,000, Hewes said.

WATER CHIEFS HIT BIG JOB

The citizens' water committee headed by A. J. McFadden had taken on a big job today.

It's working to assure success for the $2,500,000 flood control bond election July 27—but it hopes for more than just a bare two-thirds majority.

It wants a majority large enough to leave absolutely no doubt in the minds of Washington authorities that Orange county is enthusiastically behind the huge water project.

Failure of voters to support two earlier bond proposals has given ground for doubt as to public demand for flood control.

STRESS ADVANTAGES

The committee believes the advantages of the project are more than enough to warrant passage of the bonds. It points to the fact that 41,000 acre feet of water can be conserved in an average year by the comprehensive, county-wide flood control and water conservation program Orange county voters will be asked to approve on July 27.

Figures contained in the official report to the board of supervisors by Flood Control Engineer M. N. Thompson estimate that 26,000-acre feet of water can be conserved annually from the run-off of streams tributary to the coastal basin. From those not tributary to the basin, 15,500 acre feet can be conserved.

FEDERAL SHARE

But conservation of this tremendous amount of water will not be possible unless voters of the county through to the polls July 27 and out their stamp of approval on the $2,500,000 water bond issue which will furnish Orange county's share of the $15,000,000 program.

The government, through its army engineers, will spend $12,748,000 for construction of eight dams—if the bond election is successful.

"The rapid growth in the past 30 years has definitely called attention to the fact that in certain parts of the district the use of ground water has already exceeded the replenishing supply, and there are other areas under which there is a rapidly increasing water plane," it is stated in the report.

IT IS GROWING

"The district has a frontage on the Pacific ocean of approximately 40 miles, which is occupied by rapidly growing residential areas whose need for additional supplies of water is already apparent.

"From a preliminary hydrographic study, covering a period of 48 years, of the safe yield that can be obtained from the surface reservoirs on Trabuco and San Juan creeks in conjunction with the available gravel storage, sufficient water may be obtained to supply an ultimate agricultural area of 4300 acres with a consumptive use of one and a half acre feet annually, together with an average of 3,200,000 gallons daily for the supply of the residential area along the coast."

Man Finds $1400 And Returns It

SEATTLE. (AP)—W. D. Thompson, Hollywood, Calif., lens grinder, found a billfold containing $1400 in cash and negotiables on the street here yesterday. He returned it to a rubber packing company and received a cash reward. The wallet had been dropped by a woman bookkeeper en route to a bank.

NEW HOLY LAND PLANS FOUGHT

Jews, Arabs May Unite Against British Move

JERUSALEM. (AP)—Bitter opposition among the rank and file of both Jews and Arabs toward Britain's proposed "surgical operation" on Palestine was considered by some British circles today as the forerunner of a possible united front on Jews and Arabs.

The British Royal Commission has proposed—subject to League of Nations approval—that the Holy Land be divided between sovereign Jewish and Arabian states, with a new British mandate over the holy cities of Jerusalem, Nazareth and Bethlehem.

BOTH GROUPS ASTOUNDED
Both Arab and Jewish masses were astounded today at the radical solution offered by the British government for their problems—although many were not yet able to grasp fully what was proposed. It was suggested the age-old rivals might embark on an independent attempt to work out their problems around the council table. Jewish leaders considered the cutting off from their territory of the potash works of the Dead Sea and the electric power works on the River Jordan a serious blow, and were not likely to move in their stand that these should be given to them.

Most Arab reaction to the committee's report was summarized in the words of Fuad Saba, secretary of the Arab Higher Committee: "This is too bad. There will be considerable disappointment."

BRITAIN GIVES WARNING
Britain, with some 7000 soldiers and a warship in readiness to stamp out any "serious disorders" over the proposals, held up a warning of military intervention to fulfill its "responsibility" for peace, order and good government throughout Palestine.

The Arab-Jewish frontier would follow the existing northern and eastern frontier across Lake Tiberias (the Sea of Galilee) to the outflow of the River Jordan; thence west toward the sea to the maritime plain and southward to the Jerusalem-Jaffa corridor near Lydda; south of the corridor down the edge of the plain to a point about 10 miles south of Rehovot, thence west to the sea.

WISE ACCUSES BRITAIN OF 'BETRAYING TRUST'

NEW YORK. (AP)—Dr. Stephen S. Wise accused Great Britain today of "the gravest betrayal of a sacred trust" in the partition of Palestine.

"The decision strikes at the very heart of Jewish hopes and is an affront to the League of Nations," Dr. Wise said. "This is the gravest betrayal of a most sacred trust."

Dr. Wise, who is president of the Zionist organization of America, added, "Palestine is divided, and we, Jews, dealt with as if we were just another warring tribe in Palestine, even as the Arabs." He said partition "is the timorous escape of a government which never failed because it never tried to enforce the mandate. This is not imperial statesmanship but Palestine government house improvisation."

WOOL STRIKE HURTS BOSTON

BOSTON. (AP)—The three-weeks' strike of 5000 handlers fighting for a closed shop brought its first threat today to this port's supremacy as the largest wool market in the nation.

The Globe said one wool concern had decided to move from Massachusetts because of Boston labor conditions. The paper did not name the firm.

The paper said "already work of grading and sorting wool, which is generally done here, is being carried out in many western wool warehouses prior to shipment directly to the mills. This procedure, wool men declare, seems likely to prove satisfactory and indications are that Boston has already lost business that it will never regain."

Meanwhile police kept close watch over the waterfront district where dealers attempted to end a paralysis of the market by moving wool from warehouses to consignees. They did not attempt, however, to move wool from over crowded docks.

Dealers and union officials remained deadlocked over the closed shop issue.

Alaska Mine Co. Shows Big Profit

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Alaska Juneau Gold Mining Company reports a new record in first half year profits of $1,414,300, before provision for depletion, depreciation and federal taxes. This compared with $1,141,800 in the 1936 first half.

June net income was $204,800, down considerably from the May record of $289,800, and somewhat under the June 1936 figure of $220,600. Working of higher grade ore accounted for the better showing.

Award Contracts On Giant Canal

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Secretary Ickes awarded a $64,425 contract today for structures on the All-American Canal, east of Calexico, Calif., to Bennett and Taylor, Los Angeles.

The contract covers construction of miscellaneous canal turnouts, flumes and crossings, which will serve the Wistaria, Woodbine, Walnut, Wormwood, Westside and main canals.

It's a Pleasure To Be Arrested By Boyd or Lane

Police Officers Burnette Lane and George Boyd received a fan letter yesterday.

And it came from a man to whom they'd given a ticket. William Van Derhoof of Corona sent $10 to Judge Mitchell to pay for his speeding fine, and in his letter wrote: "I want you to know that Officers Lane and Boyd should be recognized in some way for their courtesy. I don't believe I have ever met two more courteous men under any circumstances."

WOMAN WINS MILLION CASH

DETROIT. (AP)—Circuit Judge Sherman D. Callendar awarded Mrs. Laura Miller Boyer approximately $1,000,000 in cash and securities yesterday from the estate of her father-in-law, Joseph A. Boyer, chairman of the board of the Burroughs Adding Machine company.

Judge Callendar's action ended Mrs. Boyer's suit to obtain $2,000,000 from the $21,000,000 estate. Her father-in-law died in 1931.

Each of the five legatees was ordered to pay one-fifth of the amount awarded to Mrs. Boyer. They are Mrs. Henry E. Candler, Mrs. Standish Backus and Mrs. Ruby Boyer Miller, all of Detroit; Mrs. H. S. Chase of Santa Barbara, Calif., and Frank H. Boyer, deceased.

GIANNINIS BUY 2 MORE BANKS

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The Giannini interests have acquired control of the First National Bank and the First Savings Bank of Glendora, near here, E. E. Gard, president and board chairman of both banks, announced.

President L. M. Giannini of the Bank of America said it is planned to merge the two banks into what will be known as the Glendora branch of the Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association. All officers and employees will be retained.

The First National Bank, which was organized in 1907, and the First Savings Bank, organized six months later, have a combined capital, surplus and undivided profits of $250,000 and total resources of more than $1,490,000.

PHONES LINK U.S. AND ALASKA

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Secretary Woodring and John W. Troy, governor of Alaska, inaugurated direct telephone service yesterday between continental United States and its northern territory.

Utilizing combined facilities of the Army Signal Corps and the American Telephone & Telegraph company, they greeted each other over a 3906-mile radio-telephone circuit between Washington and Juneau, in ceremonies conducted simultaneously in the two capitals.

The new service will be available both for commercial and official use.

Court's Warrants 'Tag' Four Men

Warrants from Judge Mitchell's court reached out and tagged four Santa Ana men yesterday.

Carl Jansen, 1915 West Washington street, went to jail, charged with defrauding an inn keeper. James Williams, 33-year-old negro, of 711 North Fairlawn, joined Jansen in jail, facing a charge of disturbing the peace.

Pete Castro, Route 4, Box 610, was arrested on a bench warrant for speeding and was released on $6 bail. And Jose M. Avila, 1029 Logan street, posted $4 bail after being arrested on a charge of failing to appear.

Rehm Frustrates Holdup Attempt

Buddy Rehm, 109 South Van Ness street, yesterday told police a story of an attempted holdup by two youthful bandits in Birch park.

Walking through the park, Rehm said, he was stopped by two boys whom he judged to be between 14 and 17 years of age. One of them, he said, stuck something which might have been a gun into his ribs.

Rehm said he struck one of the boys and the pair fled. Officers searched the vicinity but were unable to locate the reported holdup boys.

San Pedro Denied Marriage Bureau

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The city budget bureau returned an adverse recommendation yesterday on the request of Councilman Franklin P. Buyer of the fifteenth district that a branch marriage license bureau be established at San Pedro.

The budget bureau said marriage license matters are under jurisdiction of the clerk of the superior court, and the superior court does not sit at San Pedro. There are license bureau branches in Pasadena, Santa Monica, Long Beach and Pomona.

DRIVE TO END FARM LABOR WAR OPENS

CAMPAIGN LED BY McFADDEN

Asks Governor to Aid State-Wide Movement

A. J. McFadden of Santa Ana today was leading a state-wide drive to end farm-labor dissension. The Santa Ana man, president of the State Chamber of Commerce, yesterday led a delegation which appeared before Gov. Frank Merriam to ask his cooperation in the effort. The delegation, representing state-wide agricultural organizations and the state chamber, was informed the governor will be glad to cooperate with them in any program designed to improve relations between agriculture and labor.

The representatives of the employer group organizations and the state chamber did not ask the governor's specific endorsement of the 11-point program they had adopted but merely sought his approval in principle.

LIKES PROGRAM
After a conference with the governor, the spokesman for the group said the chief executive had expressed the opinion a commendable step had been taken and that a casual reading of the 11 points seemed to indicate it was "a good program."

Among recommendations made at a recent meeting of the associations were the following:
That agricultural employers continue to improve working conditions and condemn all unfair labor practices to employees.

That employers protect the right of the worker to work.
That any policy of intimidation or coercion by employers, employees or racketeers be condemned.

That legislation be sought to "bring about responsibility" on the part of labor organizations similar to that of the employers.

OPPOSE CLOSED SHOP
That agriculture be kept free from the closed shop and hiring hall, although the delegation's statement said there was no objection to collective bargaining.

"Agriculture recognizes the need for continuing farm labor employment," the statement of aims continued, "and recommends that known practices to attain this result immediately be instituted by individual farmers and that a program of study be undertaken by farmers and official agencies."

The delegation that called on the governor included, in addition to McFadden, Ralph Taylor, executive secretary of the Agricultural Council of California, and R. N. Wilson, of the State Chamber of Commerce.

Firemen, Police Aid Beach Woman

The forces of both police and fire departments of Santa Ana were called out to aid a woman in distress yesterday.

Mrs. Fay Gelb, 1760 Coast Highway, Seal Beach, had come to Santa Ana with E. O. Boggs to file papers at the courthouse. Suddenly she fainted, and was taken to the hospital by Mrs. J. A. Greene at 911 West First street, where the police and rescue fire squad were called.

Both departments rendered first aid until Dr. L. C. Davidson arrived, diagnosed the trouble and ordered Mrs. Gelb removed to the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

ARGENTINE COTTON CUT
BUENOS AIRES. (AP)—The third official estimate of the Argentine cotton crop for the 1936-37 season has been placed at 41,600 tons against 86,957 tons for the 1935-36 season. The reduction was attributed to locusts and drought.

Tooth Learning Is Something New in Vienna

Viennese schools introduced obligatory courses on the right methods for tooth cleaning. Frau Dr. Greiner, supreme teacher of this useful subject, here illustrates for her charges how to "direct the toothbrush." Classes made lots of fun for the kids.

TWO SHIPYARDS DEFY STRIKERS

NEW YORK. (AP)—Two of three metropolitan area shipyards, strike-bound for three weeks, resumed work yesterday in defiance of a CIO union while the third posted notices it would reopen Monday.

The resumption was orderly as squads of police watched pickets posted at the Robins Drydock and Repair company in Brooklyn and the Tietjan and Lang shipyards in Hoboken, N. J.

"There was no activity at the United Shipyard plants at Mariners' harbor, Staten island, where the Monday opening notices were posted.

Police estimated 1000 pickets hooted and jeered 1000 workers entering the Brooklyn works, normally employing about 1400 persons, while at the Hoboken yards between 150 and 175 of the company's 800 workers returned.

Accuse Man of Bilking Women

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The district attorney's office has issued a warrant charging William McNeil, contractor and real estate promoter, with nine counts of grand theft from two wealthy women he met at religious meetings.

Deputy District Attorney Herman Arterberry said McNeil had obtained, since 1933, sums totaling $160,000 from the women. The complaint, however, charges only the theft of $25,000 from Mrs. Mabel Edith Bovell, Los Angeles, widow of a wealthy English minister, and $9018 from Miss Marie Almand, Culver City, in real estate deals.

Dance Partner of Mae's Husband Speaks Her Mind

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP)—Frank Wallace, 43, visiting in Henderson, declined today to discuss his marriage to Mae West, 26 years ago, which was admitted Wednesday night by the film actress.

His dancing partner, however, Miss Trixie Lemar, discussed the matter feverishly. "I have been teamed up with Frank for seven years," she said. "When we first met he told me that he was married to Miss West."

"When we agreed to team up," Miss Lemar continued, "we decided that neither of us would discuss his marriage to her."

DOESN'T WANT MONEY
Eventually, the blond dancer pointed out, the fact that Wallace was married to the actress had to be made known.

"Frank filed the suit against Miss West simply to establish the fact that he was her husband," Miss Lemar said. "He doesn't want money."

"After he had declared himself married to Miss West," the dancing partner continued, "and Miss West continually denied it, Frank became an imposter in the eyes of the show people, and we found it difficult to obtain work."

Asked why Wallace declined to discuss Miss West's statement, the dancer said: "His attorneys in New York and on the coast advised him to keep silent."

MAY START SUIT
Wallace and Miss Lemar were accompanied to Henderson two weeks ago by her sister, Mary Ida Lemar, secretary of the dance team, and Charles Jacobs, assistant superintendent of mails, New York postoffice.

Jacobs expressed opinion that Wallace's attorneys would start immediate action for annulment of the marriage.

Wallace frequently visits Henderson with Miss Lemar, who is known in Henderson as Miss Marie Carey.

ADULTS TO GET RECREATION

Classes Open Monday At Willard School

Adult recreational classes during the summer will begin Monday at Willard Junior High school, it was announced today by Truscott T. Lindsey, supervisor of the WPA recreation project.

Classes will meet in the recreation bungalow at Willard. Instruction in wood carving, art work, soap carving, gourd painting, leather work and other handicrafts will be given by WPA teachers.

CLASSES FREE
The classes will be free. Many of the tools and other equipment will be furnished by the local board of education. Children also will have an opportunity to work with the handicrafts.

The schedule of classes as released by Lindsey is as follows: Mondays, 10 a. m.-noon and 1-4 p. m., wood carving, art work, soap carving and gourd painting; Tuesdays, 10 a. m.-noon and 1-4 p. m., leather tooling, copper craft, German silver jewelry, glass etching; Wednesdays, 1-5 p. m., basketry, bead work, needle art work, knitting, loom weaving, adult paper mache, rug weaving, raffia work; Thursdays and Fridays, 10 a. m.-noon and 1-4 p. m., are pottery classes; Fridays, 2-5 p. m., French lace and other crafts.

Lindsey also said that if enough people are interested, an archery class will be formed with a WPA instructor.

A total of 4223 children attended the 10 recreational centers in Santa Ana the week of June 24-June 30. Summer playgrounds are being conducted at Edison, Delhi, Franklin, Roosevelt, Logan, Lincoln, Freeman, and Willard. The high school plunge is also open.

Garrett; his mother, Mrs. Jessie S. Garrett, Hollywood; a son, S. G. Garrett, jr., New York city; a sister, Mrs. Arthur Brown, jr., Burlingame, Calif., and two brothers, Thomas F. Garrett, Hollywood, and Edward C. Garrett, Seattle.

BACKS CITRUS ENFORCEMENT

State Chief Surveys Local Situation

Enforcement of citrus standardization laws was upheld today by officials of the state department of agriculture.

S. S. Rogers, chief of the standardization division of the state department, was in Orange county Wednesday afternoon to personally check the situation since a large percentage of oranges were frozen in the January freezes.

Some growers and packing house officials here have complained that enforcement of standardization laws too rigidly is resulting in big losses to growers.

UNIFORM ACTION
But Rogers declared that the standardization laws are being enforced uniformly in all counties, and that the situation in Orange county is not different than in other areas in regard to enforcement of the law.

The state official said there is some dissension around Anaheim, but that enforcement work is being carried out here in the same manner as elsewhere.

MARKET HEALTHY
"We have to throw away a lot of fruit," he said, "but as a result the market is in a healthy condition."

He said complaints on enforcement were coming in from San Diego county as well as from other districts.

Rogers told The Journal that local inspectors are carrying out inspection duties under supervision of the state department of agriculture, and that local officials and inspectors should not be blamed for any situation that arises.

Deputy Dismissed In Gambling Case

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Sheriff Eugene Eisecaulz removed Morris Tovli, a deputy, from office on a charge that he persuaded an East Whittier boulevard merchant to install three slot machines in his place of business last March 14.

Eisecaulz filed a report with the civil service commission and Tovli will have until next Sunday to present his answer.

LIONS GET FLY CASTING TIPS

Use of Thermometer In Fishing Is Told

A fellow who takes a barometer and thermometer along with him when he goes fishing and makes artificial flies jump in the same direction as their natural brothers left Lions club members wondering about their fishing ability today.

Richard Miller of Huntington Beach, who recently broke two world's records for flycasting at the national tournament in Long Beach, explained a number of the fine points of flycasting and fishing, including types of flies and various methods of casting, at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the club.

The thermometer, he said, is to determine the cold places in the water. Fish in warmer parts of a stream or lake, he said, are inclined to be lazy, while those in the cooler portions are more eager to snap at flies. The barometer is to find out whether there is a storm coming, because the fish know if there is and are apt to stay away from the surface.

Miller said 125 persons, including a number of professional men from Orange county and Los Angeles, belong to the Huntington Beach Flycasting club which he represented at the national meet. Flycasting, he said, is growing in popularity and may be included in the 1940 Olympics.

Jack Snow was program chairman. Frank Hiskey, manager of the new Owl Drug company store in Santa Ana, was introduced as a new member of the club.

GASOLINE USE SETS RECORD

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The interior department estimated today that the total domestic gasoline consumption for the first six months of 1937 would be $246,000,000 barrels, an all-time peak.

died at his home here yesterday. Dr. Brown, through his research in soil chemistry and soil bacteriology, developed the "Iowa system of soil management," whose main points are soil conservation and permanent agriculture.

Alta Fisher Is Honor Guest

August Bride Given Quaint Shower By Maurine Harris

Miss Alta Fisher, popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher of Tustin, whose marriage to Glen Smith of Santa Rosa will occur August 24, was honored at a novel party given last night by a former classmate at the University of California, Miss Maurine Harris, 639 South Birch street.

Invitations in the form of miniature yellow double-boilers were sent out, suggesting that guests bring shower gifts suitable for a yellow or cream and green kitchen. Late in the evening these were brought in to the guest of honor, one assortment in a huge tea-kettle made from a silver-papered hat-box containing dozens of little gadgets from the hostess and her mother, Mrs. C. E. Harris. Other pretty enameled utensils were concealed in a huge covered roaster.

Previous to the gift presentation a number of original games and court whist were played, with prizes going to Mrs. William Fisher, high, and Mrs. Robert Broomell, second.

A dainty yellow and green color scheme was carried out in all details, with crystal bowls of yellow gladioli, Shirley poppies and daisies around the rooms, and gay-checked cloths on the refreshment tables. These latter were centered with toy kitchen utensils filled with nuts and candy.

ANNUAL W.C.T.U. POT-LUCK DINNER TO BE TUESDAY

W. C. T. U. members of Santa Ana will join for their annual membership dinner in the Y. M. C. A. building at 12:30 p. m. Tuesday. A program of guest speakers and an educational film will be provided following the dinner.

Guest speakers for the meeting will be Mrs. Vol. Grimm, county president of the W. C. T. U., who has recently returned from the world's convention at Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Anna Hill of Hemet, a former county president. "The Beneficent Reprobate," a new Burton Holmes educational film, will be screened through the courtesy of Claude A. Watson, practicing attorney of Los Angeles, who will also make a short talk.

The session is open to all women interested. There will be a covered dish luncheon at noon with each person furnishing a dish and table service. Coffee and rolls will be provided.

Reservations must be made by Monday evening with Miss Louise Brokaw at 416 West Pine street, phone 438-5W. Miss Arlie Warner is in charge of the evening's program.

Hostesses for the annual function will be the membership vice-presidents of all local churches. These include Miss Emily Cox, First Baptist; Mrs. Everett Johnson, United Brethren; Mrs. Edna Leonard, Calvary; Mrs. Helen Hansler, First Christian; Mrs. Nellie Vance, Orange Avenue Christian; Mrs. Amanda Garvin, Christian Missionary Alliance; Mrs. Carrie Watson, First Congregational.

CLUB MEETS IN WIMBUSH HOME

Mrs. R. N. Wimbush entertained at a luncheon and afternoon bridge party in her home, 1108 South Van Ness, yesterday afternoon for members of her bridge club.

Large bowls of pastel gladioli were used throughout the home for decorations. Prizes were won in contract bridge by Mrs. Mary Adrain for high and Mrs. Florence Wright for low.

Members present included Mrs. Sadie Roehm, Mrs. Nellie Sylvester, Mrs. Mary Adrain, Mrs. Florence Wright, Mrs. Pearl Lyon, Mrs. Della Maude Ryan, Mrs. Lillian Dawson, Mrs. Jess Jennings, Mrs. Rose Smith, Mrs. Winnie Dean, Mrs. Jennie Shippe, and the hostess, Mrs. Wimbush.

Spiced fruits add a delicious flavor to meals. Pears, pineapple, peaches, apricots, apples, oranges or even grapes—all of them spiced—may be served with the main course. They will also lend an interesting flavor to the fruit cocktail or salad. Candied ginger is another favorite.

Mary Stoddard Girl Who Persuaded Man to Marry Her Is Confused About Future Plans

Much is being said and written about "the new relationship of the sexes." Don't deceive yourself, girls, or let others deceive you. Men know there is no such thing. The relationship between male and female as regards marriage is as old as the hills. It may be disguised in a new garb to suit the stylists of various eras, but deep down underneath all the blurb and blah of faddists it remains unchanged.

As I stated above, women are deceived, but not men.

Man by his very nature is the hunter, the pursuer. When women try to turn the tables and assume the role of a modern Diana they're almost invariably disillusioned and disappointed if they are unlucky enough to "land their man."

Consider the case of the young wife who records her dilemma in the letter which follows:

Dear Miss Stoddard: I have read your column for quite some time, and think your advice is always right. So will you listen to my problem now and give me some much needed advice.

When I was 18 I married a boy 19. Of course we were too young to realize what a marriage bargain was. One thing led to another and after two-and-one-half years of I guess you would say just living together and waiting for one another to make the first move, we separated. I got a divorce the next year and got myself a good position. I've related the first part of my life, so you and your readers will know I've been through the so-called mill before. But this isn't getting to my problem.

MARRIES SECOND TIME

After enjoying single life for a year I met a man seven years my senior. He liked me very much and gave me a big rush. I never thought of him seriously at first then all of a sudden I realized how much he meant to me. He showered me with attention, gifts, etc. Of course the first thing a girl thinks of is getting married, and I, like the rest, began hinting around, but he never seemed to follow me, when I brought the subject up, as I hoped he would. Well, to be truthful, I believe I pushed the issue until really all he could do was give me a ring and set the date. Of course that was what I wanted and I was happy as a lark. From the day of our engagement he started to act odd. In fact he wanted to break it up three times before we were married. But somehow I always talked him out of it. Not realizing the great harm it was doing to both of us. It seemed to me if I lost him life wouldn't be worth living.

TREATS HER WELL

I can't put it in so many words, the way he treated me. He seemed to love me, proud of me and enjoy my company, but marriage, no, he wasn't the type to be tied to a wife. I've been told I'm pretty, nice personality, wear smart clothes, etc. So that wasn't the reason.

Well, to make a long story a wee bit shorter—we got married. We had a nice wedding with all the trimmings. Went on a honeymoon and came back to a smart apartment. As soon as we were settled it seemed, those spells of indifference came back. On the way home from work at night he wouldn't utter a word, maybe that would go on all evening with the exception of "Turn off the light," or something similar. This would go on for three or four days sometimes, then apparently he'd get over it and be his normal self. And when he snapped out of his spell he thought I should never mention it to him and go on as if nothing had happened. Well, I wouldn't. I wasn't used to that sort of life, and why should I be treated in such a manner, I provided for myself and helped with the expenses.

LOSES WEIGHT Well, this kept up for eight months until I was losing weight from worrying over his actions. I loved him so much the thought of leaving him never entered my head until one day I came home from work tired. He said he was tired of eating out of cans all the time and was going to his mother's for a decent meal. Well, that was the last straw.

I told him if he left I wouldn't be there when he returned. One thing led to another, so I pleaded with him to try and change and treat me at least like a human being. Oh! he was surprised at that, said "me change, that's what I'm waiting for you to do." Also that I had got him into this mess of being married and it was my job to get him out. So the next morning I told him I'd send a dray for my things as soon as I was settled.

He didn't seem to mind much. All he said was, "Ann, some day you'll be sorry." But after he had gone three days, he found out where I was staying and came after me. Even then he didn't say he missed me or wanted me. It was just, "Well, Ann, maybe we could try it again." Well, I went back thinking everything was fixed and we would really be happy—we were for exactly nine days.

STILL NO CHANGE This time I thought he might snap out of it and then, too, if I went on as if nothing were wrong he might forget those little spells of his. MABEL CASTEIX CELEBRATES ON BIRTHDAY

Eleven was the magic number for little Miss Mabel Louise Casteix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Casteix, 1331 South Birch street, yesterday afternoon when she celebrated her eleventh birthday with 11 young guests.

A dainty pink and green motif was carried out in the favors, flowers, and paper streamers which were draped from the chandelier to the places. The children played Lotto during the afternoon with prizes being drawn from a miniature fishpond. At the close of the afternoon, a large white birthday cake decorated in green and pink was presented to Miss Mabel Louise.

Guests for the party were Anne Flannigan, Edna Lee Russell, Ann Russell, Charlene Hill, Jo Anne Masin, Charles Masin, Raoul Carrillo, Renee Carrillo, Clarence Angell, and Phillip Hamner.

EMPLOYEES WILL BREAKFAST IN PARK SUNDAY

About 300 employees of the Orange County Safeway stores and their families will gather in Anaheim park early Sunday morning for breakfast and picnic games. Breakfast will be served to the crowd at 8 a. m., followed by all types of foot and bicycle races, football, handball, and baseball games. Prizes valued at $75 will be offered to the victors in the various contests.

The picnic breakfast is sponsored by the Safeway employees association and supervised by the district officers. Officials in charge are M. W. Ball of Santa Ana, president; C. S. Lee of Brea, vice-president; L. C. Herron of Anaheim and C. L. Boardman of Fullerton, social chairman; F. A. Driesbach of Fullerton and P. G. Kilburn of Santa Ana, treasurers.

ARIZONA NURSES VISIT HERE

Miss Eva Mae Miller and Mrs. Carl Barth, nurses in the Good Samaritan hospital of Phoenix, Ariz., were guests in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. H. B. Landis, 407 South Garnsey street, early this week.

During their visit in Santa Ana, the two nurses accompanied Mrs. Landis to Los Angeles where they inspected the large County hospital there and numerous other clinics. They left here Wednesday for Yosemite valley, San Francisco, and Lake Tahoe.

him. And, Miss Stoddard, I really want to get along, because I think so much of him and I think if he acted different we could get terribly happy. Shall I go away some place where he can't persuade me to come back? Or shall I go on this way, forever hoping he'll change? Hoping you can find space for this so some of your readers who may have found the answer to this same problem will pass the answer on to me. Thanking you in advance, I am

Two Showers Fete Nancy Russell

This Saturday's bride-to-be, Miss Nancy Del Russell, who has been fêted at so many lovely parties during the past few weeks, was guest of honor again this week when Mrs. Elsie Daley and Miss Norma Daley entertained at luncheon.

The Daleys are occupying the Alan Revill home at 2215 North Ross street during the summer, and it was in the lovely garden there that the affair was held.

After lunch had been enjoyed at the pansy-centered tables, many pretty gadgets for the new kitchen Miss Russell will occupy after her marriage to Ambrose Wyckoff were brought in and opened for the pleasure of the guests, and later cards were enjoyed.

Those attending the pleasant affair were Miss Betty Hammond, Miss Betty Lou Marble, Miss Phyllis Krock, Miss Marjorie Vollmer, Miss Helen Rowell, Miss Eleanor, Miss Barbara Ward of San Francisco, Miss Peggy Paxton, Mrs. Roy Russell, Mrs. Ledru Silvey, Miss Urdel Silvey, and Mrs. William Otis.

Last night Miss Marjorie Vollmer added to the series of pleasant parties when she gave a little evening party, decorating her dessert tables in bridal motif.

She was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Frederick Vollmer, in serving and in presenting Miss Russell with a tray of lovely miscellaneous gifts. Hearts was the evening's diversion, with high score prize going to Miss Gerry Peck.

A delightful touch later in the evening was a musical program presented by Mrs. Vollmer, known professionally in her role of concert pianist as Ida Stark Vollmer. At the girls' request she played a group of lovely numbers, among them the appropriate Liszt "Liebestraum."

Guests of Miss Vollmer were the Misses Betty Hammond, Helen Rowell, Gerry Peck, Marguerite Pimental, Phyllis Krock and Norma Daley.

LOCAL PASTOR TEACHES AT ARIZONA SESSION

The Rev. Harry Owings is now in Prescott, Ariz., where he is teaching a class in the Arizona State Conference for Youth. He plans to return to Santa Ana on July 16.

With Mrs. Owings and daughter Patricia, the Rev. Mr. Owings will leave August 1 for a month's vacation in Portland, Ore., where he will preach the morning services in the Portland First Congregational church for the month.

During their absence, the Owings residence will be occupied by the pastor of the Portland church who will fill the pulpit of the First Congregational church of Pasadena for the month of August. Guest speakers for each Sunday will preach in the local Baptist church during the period.

BERKELEYITES VISIT HERE

Lake Arrowhead is the scene of a vacation for Mr. and Mrs. Frank Erickson of Berkeley who are visiting in Southern California for a short time.

They plan to spend several weeks with Mrs. Erickson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Shippe at their home, 605 1/2 South Birch street. Mrs. Erickson was Thelma Shippe before her marriage. She is a graduate of Santa Ana schools through Santa Ana Junior college.

Summer calls for diligent cleaning and airing of break and cookie boxes, pantry and cupboard shelving and refrigerators. Since bread molds easily in the summer, it is best to buy just enough for each day's needs.

CHURCH WOMEN MEET AT GIBSON HOME

The lovely spreading trees of Mrs. W. B. Gibson's garden at 209 Edgewood drive made a pleasant shady background for members of the Women's Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church Wednesday. Forty women and their guests gathered first for a delicious luncheon, for which several tables were spread. One of these was specially reserved for those who had celebrated their birthday anniversaries during the past two months, and a beautiful cake was served to them.

Later a business meeting was held with Mrs. W. S. Kennedy in charge. Featured at this was presentation of life membership in the Association of the West to Mrs. A. E. Kelly, wife of the pastor.

Mrs. C. E. Harris led devotionals and Mrs. Will Lindsey had charge of the program. Articles, poems and short talks were presented by Mary Adele Henderson, William Anderson, Mrs. Lindsey, Mrs. Opal Lumley, Mrs. Scott Torrens, Donald Kelconer, Tommy Johnson and Marjorie Johnston.

Enjoyable musical numbers were presented by Marjorie Johnston, Dwight Schroeder, Stewart Gibson, Buddy Elliott, Wayne Herzog and Richard Gibson.

MORE PEOPLE GO TO CONVENTION

Four more Santa Ana people will leave this morning by automobile for Denver and the national Elks' convention, with side trips to all way-side points of interest scheduled.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Campbell and City Clerk and Mrs. E. L. Vegely will travel in the same car and will visit Yellowstone National park before returning from their two-week trip. Campbell is district deputy of the Elks.

Legion Group Names New Officers

American Legion auxiliary members last night elected new officers to lead them for the coming year, chief among whom is Mrs. Charles Leimer. She succeeds Mrs. Robert Sandon as president of the auxiliary.

Her executive board will be made up of Mrs. Francis Jones, first vice president; Mrs. Earl Lepper, second vice-president; Mrs. Arthur Eklund, secretary; Mrs. S. D. Duckett, treasurer; Mrs. Elmer Sullivan, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Marion Dodder, marshal; Mrs. E. F. Matthews, historian; Mrs. Margaret Hill, chaplain; and Mrs. Ralph Hoover, Mrs. Ralph Mitchell and Mrs. Harry Pickard, directors.

Official delegates to the state convention to be held at Stockton Aug. 9-12 are Mrs. Leimer, Mrs. Matthews, Mrs. Ben Lieberman, Mrs. Cy Featherly, and Mrs. Robert Sandon. These were also officially voted upon at last night's business session.

ALASKAN TRIPS ARE POPULAR

Miss Mary Schofield, Mrs. Lena Schofield, Miss Mary Olive Tozier, and Miss Fatsy Oliphant have booked passage aboard the S. S. North Sea, which sails July 16 from Seattle for Alaska, via the inland passage. Their reservations were made through the Julia Anne Hyde travel bureau.

Mrs. Hyde herself, who has been conducting a tour to Alaska for the past three weeks, will return with her party July 10.

DUAL BIRTHDAYS ARE CELEBRATED AT IRVINE PARK

Two birthdays were celebrated Wednesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bailey met in Irvine Park for their annual joint celebration.

Mrs. Slabaugh and Mrs. Bailey were the honor guests at the picnic supper. Mrs. Bailey presented a huge birthday cake and a dainty pastel-colored French nosegay to Mrs. Slabaugh during the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Slabaugh drove to Beverly Hills today to visit their daughters, Mrs. Earl C. Holsington and Mrs. Russell Reagan. The party, with young Ronnie Reagan, drove to Santa Monica for a day's picnic.

The Alhambra home of Frank Enny Johnson, famous painter, was the scene of a luncheon gathering of about 30 childhood friends from Omaha, Neb., which Mrs. Slabaugh attended recently. An informal program was provided by Mr. Johnson playing the guitar, with vocal selections by Mrs. Slabaugh.

GIRLS TO HAVE BEACH VACATION

Eight young girls, all of Santa Ana, will leave tomorrow morning for Laguna where they will spend a week's vacation in a cottage.

Mrs. Dean Laub, 114 Owen drive, will act as chaperone for the week. Included in the party will be La Dean Laub, Mary Jean Towler, Betty Voskuhler, Virginia Hillcamp, Betty Timmons, Betty Johnson, Cleo Adrian, and Patricia Owings.

I. T. U. TUESDAY

I. T. U. auxiliary will hold a business meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Carl Thrasher, Orange Park Acres. Mrs. Charles Claytor is to be co-hostess.

Anniversary Honored By Couple

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Liebig of 820 Spurgeon street complimented Mrs. Theodore Winbiger on her birthday anniversary yesterday evening with a delightful party.

Guests were seated at a long table beautifully decorated in green and white, with a lace vine in the center flanked by white tapers in silver holders. After delicious refreshments climaxed by the serving of a lighted birthday cake, everyone enjoyed watching Mrs. Winbiger open the dainty remembrances they had brought her.

Later, contract occupied the pleasant evening, with prizes going to Mrs. C. P. Boyer and Dr. J. E. Paul. Guests of the Liebig were Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Winbiger, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Paul, Dr. and Mrs. John Wehrly, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Zaiser, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ranney, and Mrs. J. B. Roberts.

LEGION MOTHERS MEET MONDAY

An all-day quilting party will be held by the Legion Mothers' club as a special meeting next Monday in the Veterans hall.

Members of the Gold Star Mothers' organization will meet with the Legion Mother's club to honor a departing member of both groups. A covered dish luncheon will be enjoyed at noon.

PUBLIC CARD PARTY

Torosa Rebekah sewing circle will hold a public card party Tuesday at 1 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Claude Brown, 710 South Van Ness street. Prizes will be awarded for bridge and five hundred. Mrs. Ada Spencer is co-hostess.

Cherry Pie Satisfies All Guests

By JUDITH WILSON
Cherry pie has always been a favorite of mine. Of course you know that the foundation of any good cherry pie is a deliciously tender crust that melts in your mouth. Add to that a juicy, subtly spiced cherry filling and you will have a perfect pie whether you serve it old-fashioned two-crust, individual pies with lattice tops or a cherry chiffon pie garnished with whole red cherries.

NEVER-FAIL PASTRY
Sift flour and measure 2 cups. Resist with 1 teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon baking powder. Mix in 2-3 cup shortening, until the fat is broken into small pieces. Add 4 to 6 tablespoons ice water carefully, pressing the dough together. If you want to make a pie shell for a one-crust pie, roll out half the pastry. For a lighter crust, prick it liberally to prevent blistering and bake in a hot oven for 12 minutes. Placing a second pan over the pastry in the first pan will also help insure a smooth, evenly-browned crust.

Now for the cherry fillings—use good red, sour, pitted cherries. You can use only the cherries, sugar to sweeten and butter to flavor plus flour, cornstarch or quick-cooking tapioca to thicken the juice. For a lighter different flavor you can mix the cherries with mince meat or pineapple tidbits—although cherry pie is so good in itself, it seems too bad to alter it.

The most interesting variations come in the shape of the pie. A square, deep-dish pie with only a top crust is particularly attractive. Have the filling juicy and quite tart and serve a fluffy hard sauce or ice cream with it. Or make your cherry pie in small individual plates with twisted lattice tops made from narrow strips of pastry. Another suggestion is old-fashioned tarts filled with preserved cherries and topped with whipped cream.

HAY-BALER CRIPPLED
Wheels from a hay-baler and a 10-inch plow are reported stolen from William Griset, 167 East Seventeenth street, yesterday. Police checked several suspects but did not find evidence enough to make an arrest. Griset said the stolen implements were worth $40.

Be Clever and Avoid Such Etiquette Slips

Giggling at Compliments
So embarrassing! You looked so sophisticated and charming to the vacation crowd. Then you got a compliment—and fell all over yourself.

But compliments like everything else in social life, are just a matter of etiquette.

If you receive them with a titter and "Aw, you don't mean that," you betray a sad lack of manners.

But if you smile graciously, say, "You're nice to say so," you show poise and breeding.

And how it helps to have a reputation for perfect manners. Invitations a-plenty for the girl who knows enough not to rise when she's introduced to men; who says good-by to the sponsors at a dance; who to an apology says a quiet, "It doesn't matter." And so few invitations come to girls who don't.

Know what's expected of you—at dances, dinners, motoring—all occasions. Our 32-page booklet gives tips for girls and men.

Send 10c for your copy of Etiquette for Girls and Men to The Journal, Home Service, 117 E. 5th St. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

POPULAR FILMS NOW SHOWING

An appreciative audience at the Broadway theater last night saw "Manhattan Melodrama," one of the outstanding photoplays of all time, brought here for a second engagement because of popular demand. Second picture on the program, which shows tonight and tomorrow night, is "Sing and Be Happy," with Anthony Martin and Leah Ray co-starring.

Clark Gable, William Powell and Myrna Loy are co-starring in "Manhattan Melodrama," colorful and fast-moving melodrama of New York life. Gable plays a big-shot gambler, powerful and dramatic figure in the city's demimonde. Powell, as the district attorney, his life-long friend, is called upon to prosecute Gable for murder. Between them is Miss Loy, loved by both.

"Sing and Be Happy" is a new romantic comedy hit, presenting five new song hits and a new song-and-romance team, Martin and Miss Ray, both popular radio stars. The cast includes Joan Davis, Helen Vesper, Allan Lane and Dixie Dunbar.

The current attractions at the West Coast theater are "They Gave Him a Gun" and "She Had to Eat." With Spencer Tracy, Gladys George and "Franchot" Tone in the leading roles, "They Gave Him a Gun" depicts the effect of war on the psychology of youth, tracing the transition of a kindly young clerk into a dangerous post-war racketeer.

After the hilarious spree which stole many laughs for him in "Wake Up and Live," the Walter

AMELIA FLIGHT IS SCORED

That the attempted world flight of Amelia Earhart was not likely to have been of great benefit even though successful was the consensus of members of El Camino Toastmasters club last night. That it was not justified and was merely a stunt was contested by a few, however, who believed that it was the pioneering feat of an intrepid woman.

First place on the program given by Malcolm Macurda, toastmaster, was awarded to E. M. Sundquist, speaking on the experience of a French trapper who lived among Indians. Second place went to Nolan Doss, who analyzed woman.

Jack Bascom, inducted into membership, gave his first talk, on "Credit." Ernest S. Wooster told of a camping trip not made de luxe, and Robert Hockaday made an earnest appeal for citizen enrollment in a plan to prevent crime.

Critics were T. D. MacBird as general critic, others being Phil Hood, Dr. C. J. Ruley, Dr. J. H. Jolivet, Joe Daniger and William Fernandez.

Winchell-Ben Bernie musical comedy hit, Jack Haley outdoes himself in riotous performance in "She Had to Eat." The cast includes Rochelle Hudson, Arthur Treacher and Eugene Palette. In addition to the latter two comedians, three others, Douglas Fowley, John Qualen and Tom Kennedy, add to the hilarity of the film.

THE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

By DONALD BUTTON
Returned this past week from a great showing in the Honolulu Academy of Fine Arts, a trip to Tahiti, Tom Lewis immediately challenged with such philosophic questions as these:

"Just what should the purpose of a public gallery be?" "Should it be commercial?" That is, primarily interested in selling pictures for the artists whom it serves?

"Should it be educational, and endeavor to raise the standards of public taste not only through the work of its artist members, but through worthwhile loan exhibitions?"

"What place has fashionable society in the development of a culture, and to what point should that society be allowed influence?"

"What are the universal, and therefore timeless, standards for the arts?"

"What are the qualifications a man, or woman, should have to operate a gallery in presidential capacity?"

These questions, flung as they were within a half-hour's casual conversation, and needing reflection before answering, are, for the most part, very timely as regards the coming annual election of the Laguna Gallery.

So, in the role of interviewed, or a complete reversal of parts, I make some answer to Tom Lewis and his questions. I say:

Galleries, libraries and museums have, in the greatest chance in our history to become cultural centers for the communities which they serve.

The area for which they are important need not only be the physical town in which they are situated, but a county, several counties or even a state, as the need may be.

It is their duty to stimulate creative expression, their responsibility to publicize the work of artists meeting, or attaining to, certain universally recognized standards for that expression.

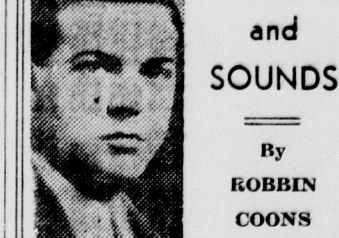

They have educational opportunity, as the San Diego Fine Arts Gallery has already done, to hang the works of the masters with local contemporaries, that not only artists, but laymen as well, may profit by their comparison.

Much as the quasi-Bohemians bemoan the evil influence of fashionable society, I point out Rembrandt, Da Vinci, Cellini, Renoir, C. D. Gibson, Salvadore Dali among countless others have done their best work with, and under, the patronage of that society.

Fashionable society, however, taking part, should see that it makes the most of the opportunities thrust upon it. A better background, a greater liberality—these are among the demands of Art from society.

Hollywood SIGHTS and SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD.—Leo the Lion is going to get a letter from me. About Virginia Bruce. Called on her the other day and found her still occupying, although happily enough, one of those dressing rooms in Metro's old ramshackle wooden building that stretches from here to there like the longest distance between two points.

Not bad at all, Virginia Bruce except that there are really colossal dressing rooms in those new buildings where the Misses Loy, Crawford, Garbo, et al., are quartered. A jewel needs the perfect setting, and what Leo's going to hear from me is that Bruce—the most beautiful girl in pictures and the one who first loved Robert Taylor, long before Garbo thought of it—ought to have that setting.

SHE CAN'T HAVE HIM
It was in "Society Doctor," Taylor's first feature, and again in "Times Square, Lady," his second, that Bruce loved Taylor. You might say she set a style for all the Taylor-struck girls of fandom. But she hasn't been allowed to love him since. No, they toss him to Garbo and Crawford and Stanwyck.

Now, if Virginia had brought this up herself, Leo would have no letter from me. I doubt if she's even thought of it. She thinks a great deal about her career, however, and she's one of the girls who believes in letting the bosses direct it. "The Great Ziegfeld" and "Born to Dance" convinced her she wasn't too good a picker.

She protested about that part in "Ziegfeld" because it was on the heavy side, and she didn't like the villainess in "Born to Dance," either. And five years from now, first to show the girl had a great deal more than beauty. If she hadn't there'd be no point in all this. She's got humor, and swing, and that certain twinkle.

A GLAMOR GIRL
"I decided to let the producers decide what's best for me," she says. "After all, they know the business, and know what they're doing. And five years from now," she adds with just the proper cynicism, "I may be out of the business because of it!"

But there's a director, George Seitz, who insists that all she needs to put her over is one, just one, glamor role. So I'm going to tell Leo he ought to give her a chance.

Increasing scarcity of skilled labor is a serious problem in Germany.

BUILDING, LOAN HAS DIVIDEND

A dividend at the rate of 5 per cent per annum was declared at the meeting of the directors of the Santa Ana Building and Loan association Thursday. This carries on the record of this association of never having failed to pay dividends since its organization in 1923.

Many thousands of dollars have been distributed to local investors this month by the Santa Ana Building and Loan association, which was organized for the purpose of lending funds for the construction of homes in this community and also for a dependable depository where local people could accumulate and deposit funds and be assured of safety and satisfactory interest earning.

The directors, local men of experience and integrity, express themselves as well satisfied with the report of conditions at the close of the first six-month period of 1937. This period has been by far the most successful and prosperous period in the history of the organization.

WESTERN FILM AT PRINCESS

Gene Autry, the singing cowboy, is coming to town tonight in a new screen production, "Tumbling Tumbleweeds."

The picture opens at the Princess theater for an engagement of two days, and Autry plays the leading role in the musical romance laid on the western plains. The story concerns an old-time medicine show out West, in which Autry does his quota of singing, riding and shooting. His leading lady is Lucile Browne, while others in the cast include George Hayes, "Smiley" Burnette, Cornelius Keefe and Charles King.

On the same bill will be shown the pictures of the recent heavyweight championship fight in Chicago, at which Loe Louis won the title by knocking out James J. Braddock in the eighth round.

BUMPER GUARD STOLEN
W. A. Lasater, 914 West Pine street, today had police looking for a center bumper guard which he said was stolen from his car, which was parked in front of his house.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK. (AP)—Profit sellers sniped at the stock market today but failed to damage the list to any great extent.

Farm implements and specialties succeeded in surmounting offerings for gains of fractions to 2 or more points. Losses among some recent leaders were generally limited to fractions.

Business news, on the whole, was seen as constructive. A technical setback had been looked for in view of the fact the averages had advanced for seven consecutive sessions. That declines were relatively modest was encouraging to boardrooms.

Prices were well mixed at the close. The trading pace slowed after a fairly lively start. Prices follow:

CULTIST LOVER FILES APPEAL

Charge Judge Erred
In Hunt Morals Case

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—John Wuest Hunt's lawyer, Hugh MacBeth, Liberian consul in Los Angeles, filed an appeal yesterday from his federal court conviction on charges of bringing 17-year-old Delight Jewett from Denver to Beverly Hills for immoral purposes.

A jury recently found the portly 33-year-old follower of Father Divine, negro cult leader, guilty of violating the Mann act, but acquitted a man and two women co-defendants. Hunt was sentenced to three years in prison.

In the appeal, MacBeth contends the indictment was defective and that Federal Judge Leon R. Yankwich erred in refusing to order a mistrial after it was shown jurors had read newspaper reports of remarks the judge made in the presence of the jury. MacBeth described the remarks as prejudicial to his client.

Judge Yankwich made the remarks in a ruling in connection with procedure. He excoriated Hunt and said he considered the evidence at that time sufficient to warrant the jury in finding him guilty.

Eel Moved to Zoo By Electricians

PHILADELPHIA. (AP)—An emergency crew from the city electrical bureau was called upon this week to transfer a South American eel from its traveling tank to the aquarium. The eel, a gift to the zoo, is reputed to paralyze its prey by electric shock.

Set Hearing For Drugs Suspect

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Leopoldo Varillas of San Fernando, Calif., one of three men arrested here on charges of smuggling narcotics across the Mexican boundary in a fish truck, has pleaded innocent before Federal Commissioner Daniel Hurley. His hearing was set for July 16.

It Pays to Be Wacky, So--- 'The Fly Outflow the Flea'

'THE LYRIC IS LOUSY'—So said Terry Shand, left. But neither Larry Shay, center, who helped Shand write the music, nor Jimmie Eaton, right, who wrote the words to "The Fly Outflow the Flea" care so long as the public likes the song.

CHICAGO. (AP)—Popular music doesn't have to make sense nowadays—just so it's catchy.

So say Jimmie Eaton, Terry Shand and Larry Shay, song writers, who point to their latest piece—"The Fly Outflow the Flea"—as an example of the modern smart title and lyric.

"How it got that way has no reason," says Shay. "Jimmie wrote the lyric and Terry and I fitted in the music. It has catchy tempo and words and that is all you need. As for what the lyric means—ask Jimmie."

WHAT IT MEANS

Eaton, who clerked in a hotel until he clicked as a lyricist, explained he started with the thought, "He who has his but he who hoos, who's he?"

"It doesn't mean anything," said Eaton. "But it suggested the line, 'I don't care, it's their affair.' Then came the idea of mosquitoes and worms and flies and fleas flying into a flue; then the fly outflow the flea and I threw in the love element suggested by 'Whoa, as long as I love you' See?"

Song publishers don't care whether the writers turn out maudlin love melodies or silly jingles about flies and fleas—so long as the songs catch popular fancy.

"Any way you figure it you're gambling on the public," said one publisher. "You think a song will be a hit. You sink $3000 or $4000 into it for printing, art work and orchestration. Then you pay your contact men anywhere from $60 to $250 a week to get it started with radio singers and actors. "The average radio singer uses it twice. Unless the song goes over with a bang right at the start it is already dying. Playing the ponies will get you better odds than that."

Only 50 Per Cent Brainy Coeds Wed

GRINNELL, Ia. (AP)—Super-intelligent coeds are estimated to have about a 50 per cent chance of getting married.

Records of a Grinnell college scholastic honor society show that since 1918 only 75 of the 145 members were married. None of the coeds married during the last two years belonged to the organization.

Modern gasoline stations are being erected on Germany's motor roads.

BRICK DUST

THERE with
T. N.
(Brick)
GAINES

By NELL MURBARGER
Ever since Braden Finch asked if I would pinch-hit today for our dear pal, "Brick," I've been trying to think of one single, solitary reason why I should. Just one little insignificant reason.

Next month I hope to take off a couple of weeks, myself, but will "Brick" drop everything and rush down to my office and throw himself into the job of helping edit the Costa Mesa Globe-Herald? He will not!

Last week, when he knew he was going to abdicate and leave on this wild-goose chase, did he manfully come in and confess to his own hometown newspaper first? He did not!

He went down to his senior counselor, Uncle Sam Meyer, and while probably under the influence of a borrowed cigar, he spilled the whole harrowing story of his contemporary, the Newport News. And so, boys and girls, the poor old Globe-Herald was quite thoroughly scooped on how "Brick" Gaines was leaving this week for the Feather River country and upon his return intended to sneak down to Ensenada for a few days. There! Skinny, that's something you didn't even know yourself! At least I've saved you the expense of hiring a private detective to try and locate the Gaines menagerie in Seal Beach.

So, after all I'm not under the slightest obligation, either real or implied, to help that young man I'm doing it at all is because I consider it a genuine compliment to be asked to pinch-hit for a noted columnist like "Brick" Gaines. (Wow!) If he doesn't come across now and pay for my dinner the next time we meet at an Associated Chambers of Commerce meeting, I'll take that all back and tell some more too—see if I don't!

Come to think of it, I used to live on the Feather River—right up there where "Brick" says he's going. In fact, I was a gold-buyer there for more than a year. It used to be a common thing for city men, on their vacations, to pack back in the hills and buy a gold-pan and shovel and some mercury and try "sniping," which is simply the art of trying to find what the Forty-Niners and all subsequent miners overlooked.

They'd tear up enough rocks and gravel to start the Boulder dam, cut down trees and make molehills out of mountains. Most of 'em worked harder during their two weeks off than they did all the rest of the year and then they'd sell their gold to me and I'd pay 'em what would have called for fifty-seven varieties of sit-down strikes if they'd have received it in wages. I was an honest buyer, too, at that. (A great rarity. In fact, I should be on display at the Bowers museum.)

U-h-m-m! Now, I just wonder! Take a good look at "Brick's" hands when he gets back. If they show indications of having come in contact with red soil and granite boulders and pick handles—maybe the gold bug's bit him. I think I've got something there.

And now, just a few words about Costa Mesa. You know, we're called the "Friendly City," down here and we try our damndest to live up to that title. Really, when a new family moves in, it's no time at all until we're well enough acquainted to send our kid over to borrow their lawn-mower.

Why, my neighbor has even gone so far as to train his fox-terrier not to be the least bit bashful when strange chickens come into his garden. No, sir, that dog treats the tail-feathers out of chickens he never saw before just the same as he does those he has been chasing for years, and that's sure going half-way to make the stranger within our gates feel at home.

But here's what I've been leading up to:

Now I realize that the customs are different wherever you go. You can't expect anybody from Placentia, for instance, to know how to act in Costa Mesa or vice versa. We have our own peculiarities, our quaint expressions, family feuds and superstitions. I don't know how the custom originated, but it's our practice here that whenever anyone gets located in a new home they throw a big housewarming and invite in all the neighbors for ice cream and cake and lemonade and cigars.

Now, you'd never believe it, but some folks here are simply wasting away to a shadow from lack of food, but they're still sticking to their guns and loyally maintaining that "Brick" Gaines will eventually throw a housewarming party with all the trimmings—you know, a swell feed befitting his position as county editor. I heard that Doc Huston even thought for a while that we might get a chicken dinner out of it.

Well, I'm not skeptical—I hope—but please pass the spuds and urnip greens.

LEGION TO ELECT
BUENA PARK.—Officers of the Buena Park Legion will be nominated and elected at the July 16 meeting. Reports on the sale of fireworks sponsored by the Buena Park post will also be made, and delegates to the state convention at Stockton will be named.

PEACE OFFICERS AWAIT VERDICT

May Drop Organization As Result of Poll

FULLERTON.—The fate of the Orange County Peace Officers' association is still hanging in the balance. The final verdict is to be rendered when postcard questionnaires which the organization ordered sent at the meeting last night at the Izaak Walton club-house are returned.

Two problems face county officers: total disbanding of the now ailing organization; or raising the $500 insurance policies to $1000 and continue as a social organization.

For the entertainment of the officers, "The Last of the Wild West" by Howard Hill, was shown. Hill, who attended the meeting, also gave demonstrations with his bow and arrow. Herman Bowie gave several piano numbers.

Nearly 100 officers attended the dinner meeting. Hunter Leach of Santa Ana was in charge of the dinner.

Y. L. Friends Picnic at Park

YORBA LINDA.—Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Barnes, who are leaving soon for Tennessee, held a get-together of old friends at Irvine park Monday with a picnic dinner, the occasion being the birthday anniversary of Buddy Barnes and Jessie Judd.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Phillips, daughter, Alice, and son, Dick; Larry Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Young and daughter, Delores, and sons, Dale and Dolan, of Anaheim; Mr. and Mrs. George Young and daughter, Betty, of Olive; Mrs. Marie Judd and daughter, Evelyn, of Olive; Mr. and Mrs. Zine Phillips, daughter, Lena, and son, Doyle, of Huntington Beach; Mr. Eucie, Miss Elsie May and Miss Mary Belle Hills of Atwood; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hoover, daughters, Velma and Helen, and Raymond and Junior Barnes of Yorba Linda.

Dog-Catcher Is Named

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—This city has a new dog ordinance, with a man to enforce it.

Lloyd Thompson has been appointed poundmaster by Chief of Police R. E. Hodgkinson. His equipment consists of a screen box mounted on the back of a police car, into which unlicensed, unleashed poaches are promptly

Dog owners must have their pets licensed, as all stray dogs picked up will be impounded.

Yorba Linda Couple Entertains

YORBA LINDA.—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Murray entertained with a family reunion at their home Sunday. Supper was served in the patio on a table decorated with flowers and pottery. Present were E. Y. Partridge, Mrs. Mary L. Chowning, Mrs. Cass Long, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Livingston and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pew, all of Whittier; Miss Marsha Vernon, Marion Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Vernon, and daughter, Barbara; Miss Elsie Mox, Charley Ann, Julia Lee and James Murray, all of Yorba Linda, and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Travis of Pomona.

Friends Honor Girl On Birthday

GARDEN GROVE.—Lois Anne Mauerhan's 12th birthday anniversary was celebrated in a jolly fashion when her mother, Mrs. J. A. Mauerhan, invited a group of her friends to a party at their home. Jean Kellogg was the lucky contender in the games and was awarded the prize.

Guests included Marilyn and Jean Kellogg, Marjorie Clark, Marietta Maas, Barbara Laird, Margaret Lamb, Winifred Young, Marion Engen and d'Arcy Hayman.

Mesa Couple Are Engaged

COSTA MESA.—The engagement of Miss Joyce Dakin to Edwin Edick was announced Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs. John F. Webster, with whom Miss Dakin had made her home for several years.

The wedding has been set for the early fall and will be performed in the Webster home with only a few relatives and close friends present.

Miss Dakin is office nurse for Dr. W. I. Covatt, the prospective bridegroom being in the employ of the Hi-Way garage. After a short motor trip, the young couple will reside in Costa Mesa.

Cook Gives Travel Talk to Lions

LAGUNA BEACH.—Ted Cook, author of the nationally syndicated column, "Cook-Cooks," gave a travelogue talk at a recent meeting of the Lions club in Bird's cafe.

Cook's recent trip to Mexico with George Hurrell, Hollywood photographer, during which they studied the history and customs pertaining to bull fighting, was the columnist's subject.

75 Snowbirds to Vie For Trophies at Bay Sunday

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Rimsky-Korsakov has his "Flight of the Bumblebee," and yachting enthusiasts of this region will have their "Flight of the Snowbirds" Sunday.

Today the entry list for the annual event promises to swell to at least 75 boats. The race will be run under rules of the North American Yacht Racing association, with boys and girls between 6 and 16 eligible to compete.

Ten gold and silver cups will be awarded the winners. It was revealed this morning by Harbor-master Thomas C. Bouchee. The course of the race will cover a large area of the lower bay, with the starting line at the Balboa pavilion.

Owners of all "snowbirds," whether members of a yacht club or not, are eligible to compete.

Heading the committee in charge will be Harry B. Stewart, representing the Newport Harbor Yacht club; Dr. J. Zeigler, commodore of the Balboa Yacht club will also attend. Others who will assist with the ceremonies will be George Converse, Thornton Hamlin, J. A. Beek, Harbormaster Thomas C. Bouchee, and Frank W. Crocker.

COMMONWEALTH WIDENING PROGRAM PUSHED BY FULLERTON

FULLERTON.—Plans for the proposed widening of Commonwealth avenue west of Richman avenue to the city limits were speeded up at the recent city council meeting held Tuesday evening in the fire hall, when Herman Hiltcher, city engineer, reported that gas funds now accumulating would amount to approximately $30,000 at the end of the fiscal year ending next July 1. This fund would insure completion of the work without direct tax cost to the city. The council approved a formal application to the state highway engineering department for this project.

A budget of $500 was approved by the council to help finance the city wide summer recreational program. Councilman Hans Kohlenger made the recommendation.

Appointment of Dale Richardson as full time police officer on recommendation of Chief of Police J. M. Pearson was granted by the council.

Foster Sand and Gravel company was awarded the contract on decomposed granite for improvement of North Brookhurst near the Val Vita plant. Improvements were limited to $3500.

The council also endorsed a resolution presented by Councilman Walter M. Muckenthafer favoring the passage of the flood control bonds to be voted on July 27.

LAGUNA EXHIBIT JUDGES NAMED

LAGUNA BEACH.—The Laguna Beach art association sale of local artists' paintings is proving successful, Virginia Woolley, in charge of the sale, announced today.

The association sponsored the sale of the paintings in the gallery on Coast boulevard at no expense to the artists. Nine empty spaces on the walls so far mark the selling of the paintings.

Whenever possible, Mrs. Eleanor Colburn and Ruth Peabody contact the artists so that they may be present when buyers are viewing their works. A large painting in the main gallery by Fern Gary, local artist, was sold this week. Jean Swiggett and Ivan Bartlett, Long Beach cartographers whose exhibit of decorative maps and travel-grams aroused considerable interest here, will be on hand to meet association patrons.

The gallery association is busy at present working in conjunction with the Art Festival board, preparing for a large exhibit to be shown July 31 to August 7, during the "Spirit of Laguna" celebration.

New Principal At Westminster

WESTMINSTER.—Resignation of Nevin L. Otis, principal of the Hoover school, was accepted at a recent meeting of the board of trustees, and Sam Micelli, Ontario, was named to fill the vacancy.

Otis leaves to accept a position as head of the radio department of the Inglewood school. Micelli is a graduate of the University of California and is at present taking a summer course at U. C. L. A.

FETE OHIO VISITOR

GARDEN GROVE.—Miss Ruth King, who is leaving for her home in Wilmington, Ohio, Friday after a two-week visit with Miss Juanita Dungan, was entertained this week with trips to points of interest around Los Angeles, Hollywood, Pasadena and Glendale by Miss Dungan and brother Miller Dungan.

DINNER GUESTS

GARDEN GROVE.—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kirkham entertained at dinner Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hanson and son Ronald of Ohio, Ia., Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCuen and daughter, Joyce, of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Kirkham and son, Robert, of Anaheim, and Joyce Moore of Los Angeles.

Justice Dodge Is Grandpa

COSTA MESA.—Judge and Mrs. D. J. Dodge are the proud grandparents of a nine-pound boy, born early Wednesday morning to their daughter, Mrs. Byron Jackson, in St. Joseph's hospital.

Both mother and son are doing well.

Urge Orange Lions To Back Bonds

ORANGE.—New officers presided for the first time at the Wednesday meeting of the Lions club, as M. N. Thompson, flood control engineer, spoke favoring the coming bond election. President Ray Arguello presided, and introduced Gordon X. Richmond, program chairman.

Richmond told Lions that it is the duty of the club to get out the vote on the bond election.

Beach Erosion Survey Starts

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—A $5000 beach erosion survey, sponsored jointly by the city of Newport, Orange county, and the federal government is under way this week.

R. L. Patterson, engineer representing the city and the county, is in charge of the survey, designed to obtain information for the protection of the city's beach frontage.

Patterson said the greatest immediate aid to Newport from the survey would be the determination of necessary steps to protect the beach between the Newport pier and the mouth of the Santa Ana river.

Noted Violinist Guest at Heights

LA HABRA.—Arnold Krauss, noted concert violinist, of San Francisco, accompanied by his wife and son Max are summer guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Albert, Sherwood of La Habra Heights.

Krauss, father of Mrs. Sherwood, is a native of Bucharest. He is a graduate of the Royal conservatory of that city and has studied extensively in Europe, appearing with many European symphonies. Upon coming to America Krauss was soloist for the Los Angeles Symphony, serving as concert master for 14 years.

GARDEN GROVE.—Installation of new Lions club officers was combined with a Ladies Night dinner, Wednesday evening at the home of the retiring president, J. W. Crill. E. M. "Sunny" Sundquist of Santa Ana acted as installing officer, seating Dr. John Kraushaar as president; J. W. Crill, first vice president; George Tobias, second vice president; Kenneth Dungan, secretary; Clair Head, treasurer; Leonard Burr, tail twister and E. O. Fulson, Lion tamer; and Rodney Collins, Fulson and Leonard Burr as new members of the board of directors.

Barbecued steaks were served at picnic tables in the yard of the Crill home. H. Clay Kellogg, Clair Head and Floyd Andres, as the dinner committee, acted as chefs. During the after-dinner social hour Kellogg showed motion pictures of Garden Grove scenes.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Lake, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wakeham, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Head, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Kellogg, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Schauer, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Andres, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Goetz, Mr. and Mrs. George Tobias, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Fulson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Andres, Dr. Norman Jesch, Leslie Waight, Collins, Burr, Walter Thomason, Sundquist, and Crill.

Florence Domke Of Orange Dies

ORANGE.—Mrs. Florence Domke, a resident of Orange for the past 20 years, died Wednesday afternoon in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alma Trumpler, 477 South Orange street.

Mrs. Domke moved here from Holland Park, Ill., in 1908. She was a member of St. Paul Lutheran church of Olive, and was 58 years of age.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Trumpler of Orange and Mrs. Minnie Seiler of San Francisco; three sons, Charles J. Domke of Glen Cove, N. Y., Otto L. Domke of Highland Park, Ill., and Herman M. Domke of San Bernardino; one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Turk of Valparaiso, Ind.; 18 grandchildren, and six great grandchildren.

Prayer services for Mrs. Domke will be held at the Gilgoly Funeral home, Orange, at 1:30 p. m. Saturday, followed by funeral services at St. Paul church at 2 o'clock with the Rev. Emil H. Kreidt officiating. Interment will be at St. John cemetery.

Mrs. Cooley New Auxiliary Head

BUENA PARK.—Mrs. Etheline Cooley has been elected as president of the Buena Park American Legion auxiliary. Other officers elected to serve with Mrs. Cooley were Mrs. F. Jackson, first vice president; Mrs. Fred Dukes, second vice president; Mrs. Pierce, secretary; Mrs. S. Roddough, chaplain; Mrs. Fay Rittenhouse, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Dixie June Cleaver, historian; Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. Georgia Cleaver was elected as delegate to the state convention. Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. R. D. Jones and Mrs. Dixie J. Cleaver were chosen as alternates. Delegates to the Orange county council are Mrs. Cooley, Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. Kraemer, Mrs. Rittenhouse and Mrs. Jackson.

Beach Erosion Survey Starts

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—A $5000 beach erosion survey, sponsored jointly by the city of Newport, Orange county, and the federal government is under way this week.

GROWING PAINS

"I can read it all but the top three lines, Doc—that couldn't be what it looks like."

LAGUNA GETS 'CORNPLASTERS' ON STREETS FOR PEDESTRIANS

LAGUNA BEACH.—Bottom, butter—what a kind of outfit they are proving unsatisfactory—Councilman Jester has recommended that the city give the new "corn-plaster" type a trial.

Workmen equipped with blow torches soon will literally plaster the boulevard with the discs. The new buttons are made of composition that is supposed to adhere to the concrete like adhesive plaster to flesh on the ribs.

Recently, the city installed metal buttons at Ocean avenue on the boulevard to mark off the pedestrian zone. Mayor Mallow reported that they are proving unsatisfactory—Councilman Jester has recommended that the city give the new "corn-plaster" type a trial.

Workmen equipped with blow torches soon will literally plaster the boulevard with the discs. The new buttons are made of composition that is supposed to adhere to the concrete like adhesive plaster to flesh on the ribs.

NAB BOYS IN BEACH THEFTS

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—A series of robberies was solved yesterday with the arrest of a local youth and a companion from Buena Park. On several occasions reports have come in that money and valuables had been taken from clothing left on the beach while the owners went for a swim.

Yesterday a man returned from a dip in the water to find his purse had been stolen. A man near by pointed out two boys whom he said he had seen near the clothing. The police were called and arrested the boys, who later assertedly confessed to several similar crimes committed recently. They were turned over to juvenile officers.

NEIGHBORS OF POUND HOWL

LAGUNA BEACH.—Neighbors of the dog pound sent in a large petition of dog protest to the city council last night because canine music isn't particularly sweet to their ears. They want the city to move the pound.

Councilman Charles Jester corroborated the petition by stating that many people in his neighborhood were kept from sleeping many nights by the howling of the dogs locked in the pound, and that there was possible justification for the claim in the petition that the noise depreciated the value of property adjacent.

Councilman Thomas Cummings commented that it would be extremely difficult to find another site for the pound. "We can't put it in the county, and we can't put it anywhere else in the city, or there'd be more complaints," he said.

Councilman Cummings—who had previously asked humorously that he be let out of choosing any new site for a dog pound—Bainbridge and Jester were appointed by Mayor L. F. Mallow to investigate the noise situation.

Jester's suggestion that the city engineer be put on salary basis, did not come up for discussion at the meeting.

Pick Mesa Lions Club Committees

COSTA MESA.—Appointing of new committeemen by President Morris Crawley, was the chief business before the board at the Lions club luncheon this week. Reports were also given by the retiring committees.

Committeemen named, in each case under the chairmanship of the first member listed, were: attendees, Willard Minor, Heinz Kaiser, A. L. Pinkley and Sam Crawford; extension, A. L. Pinkley, Walter Spicer; membership, C. W. ToWinkle, Earl Volberding and W. H. Foord.

Program, Harold Grauel, Theodore Robinson, Leroy Anderson; publicity, Leslie Steffenson, Melvin Laven; welfare, M. G. Elghmey, George Ragan and Emil Greener; boys and girls, Arch Dixon, Dr. Ralph Hoard and Everett Rea; cooperation, Dr. C. H. Huston, A. L. Howard, A. L. Dulek and Gordon Findlay.

Glenn Thompson, student president at Harbor Union High school, and Costa Mesa delegate to "Boy's State" convention, held at Sacramento to June 19 to 30, will be the speaker at next Tuesday's meeting, reporting on the activities of the group.

TO EAT WATERMELON

BUENA PARK.—The Junior auxiliary of the Buena Park Woman's club have planned a watermelon feed at Hillcrest park July 16 as one of their socials for this month.

GERRARD TELLS ABOUT 'FAMILY'

Alpha Beta's Chief Introduces Haskell

A. W. Gerrard, popularly known as "Uncle Will," has a bit of personal information about his organization, the Alpha Beta stores, that he intends to pass on to Journal readers each week.

"This week," said Gerrard, "I want to introduce Mitchell Haskell, manager of the meat department in our Alpha Beta No. 4 store at 304 East Fourth street. I have known him since he was 16 years old, and I have known his family for more than 30 years.

"He has raised a fine family of five children and two of them have finished college. The oldest one, George, has just finished a four-year course at Yale in three years. George is now pastor of the Baptist church of New Haven.

"Haskell is a straight-forward man in all his dealings. He definitely believes in giving his customers 16 ounces to the pound. His word is as good as his bond and his customers, I believe, will all bear me out in that fact.

"In addition to his service with us for 20 years, he is interested, and has been active, in the activities of young men. He has at present a class of young men of the First Christian church of Santa Ana, and has had as many as 70 in one class.

"Any man that will conduct his business on high principles and is interested in the welfare of the community in which he lives is worthy of the highest commendation. I am very proud to be associated with Mitchell.

"He is also chairman of the board of the First Christian church and has been for the past four years, and his character is beyond reproach."

HANCOCK SAILS FOR SCIENCE

SAN PEDRO. (AP)—Rare white seals and giant elephant seals were the goal today of a scientific expedition sailing from here for the Guadalupe islands off the coast of Mexico.

Captain G. Allan Hancock, wealthy patron of science, was host aboard his power cruiser Veleiro III to Dr. H. M. Wedgeforth and Dr. S. V. Ekins of the San Diego Zoological Society.

The primary purpose of the expedition is to collect elephant seals for the San Diego zoo and marine life for the University of Southern California and other institutions. Search, however, will be made for rare white seals reported in past years in Guadalupe waters, Dr. Wedgeforth said.

Captain Hancock barely escaped death or serious injury yesterday in Los Angeles when his automobile was crushed between two street cars as he was enroute to San Pedro to embark on the expedition.

He and two companions escaped with only trivial bruises. They proceeded in another automobile to San Pedro.

Bandit Identified In Other Holdups

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Detective Lieut. A. M. Woolman revealed that John Nokes, 48, sentenced in federal court Wednesday to serve four years for bank robbery, had been identified by two chain grocery store managers as having robbed them.

Rockwell Lockhart and Roy Wise, the store managers, claimed Nokes took sums ranging from $50 to $85 from them in holdups in February and March, 1936.

Woolman said, adding he would ask the county grand jury for indictments.

Nokes was sentenced for robbing a California bank branch of $300 in March, 1936.

Elks Quartet Fame Travels Fast

The reputation of the Santa Ana Elks double quartet travels faster than the singers themselves. It appeared today. Fame of the vocalists already has reached Denver, where the group is scheduled to appear soon at the Elks national convention.

Before the singers departed, Miss Ruth Armstrong, accompanist, received a telegram asking that special numbers be sung by the group at the convention. Numbers requested include "Home on the Range," "Where the West Begins," "Somewhere in Old Wyoming" and "Wagon Wheels."

Poling Again Head Of Endeavorers

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—The board of trustees of the International Society of Christian Endeavor has announced the election of Dr. Daniel A. Poling of Philadelphia to his thirteenth term as president of the group holding its thirty-sixth convention here.

Arthur J. Stanley, Dayton, Ore., was named associate president; the Rev. William H. Poule, Newark, N. J., vice president, and Carroll M. Wright, Boston, Mass., financial secretary and treasurer.

The French Government may take over famous Montlhery race track.

Della Weeks and Della Weeks Meet, Find Out Things

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—When Mrs. Della Weeks was introduced to Mrs. Della Weeks here, the two began comparing facts about themselves.

They were surprised to learn that each was born on Oct. 6, 1884, and each weighed the same. They aren't related and never have heard of each other before.

WOMAN EVADES COURT ORDER

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Mrs. Albert Sherman Hoyt, wealthy South Pasadena socialite, sought as one of the key witnesses in the probe of charges of legislative graft, has evaded service of a Sacramento county court summons to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

District Attorney Otis D. Babcock said the sheriff of Los Angeles county returned the contempt citation unserved with the explanation Mrs. Hoyt is reported to "be out of the state in the north."

The contempt charge was based upon Mrs. Hoyt's failure to appear before the county grand jury to testify regarding matters connected with Arroyo Seco highway routing legislation.

"Apparently there is nothing we can do," said Babcock, "but wait until she returns to the state. Mrs. Hoyt will appear before the grand jury. It may not be this month or the next but eventually she will, unless she stays from the state for more than three years."

CANCER AID BILLS URGED

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Surgeon General Thomas Parran predicts that cancer control measures now before congress could save 20,000 lives a year.

He said bills by Senator Bone (D., Wash.) and Representative Maverick (D., Tex.) fitted "the logical approach" of research, diagnosis and treatment. He was one of 11 experts called to testify before the senate and house commerce committees.

The bills propose expenditures up to $3,000,000 for erection of a cancer institute and hospital and $1,000,000 a year for its activities.

DIPLOMATS WIN SENATE'S OKEH

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The senate yesterday confirmed the nomination of Jefferson Caffery of Louisiana, now ambassador to Cuba, to be ambassador to Brazil.

It also confirmed the nomination of J. Butler Wright, now minister of Czechoslovakia, to succeed Caffery in Cuba. Other diplomatic nominations confirmed were:

Hugh S. Gibson of California, now ambassador to Brazil, to be ambassador to Belgium and minister to Luxembourg.

Grenville E. Emmet of New York to be minister to Austria.

County 'Laughs' At T.B. Edict

State Director of Agriculture A. A. Brock today proclaimed the entire state a bovine tuberculosis control area.

But it didn't mean a thing in Orange county.

Orange county, more than a year ago, wiped out the last traces of bovine tuberculosis, according to Dr. E. L. Russell, assistant county health officer.

Dr. Russell pointed out that milk from infected cows is responsible for most of the tuberculosis in childhood, and for this reason a drive was conducted here to stamp out the disease.

The situation is different in other counties, however, and Director Brock acted swiftly to take advantage of the $1,500,000 state appropriation for bovine tuberculosis eradication in California as provided in the O'Donnell bill signed by Governor Merriam last week.

The state agricultural code requires that the director's proclamation must be activated three weeks, following which the department must be free to move into all counties as circumstances require and that testing of cattle and the removal of reactors may go forward as rapidly as the work can be done thoroughly.

Works 25 Years For First National

Miss L. F. Potts of the First National bank has been celebrating a silver anniversary.

Yesterday marked the twenty-fifth anniversary for her as an employee of the bank.

When Miss Potts went to work for the institution it was located directly across the street from its present location, where the Owl drug store is now. The late M. M. Cruickshank, father of A. J. Cruickshank, was president of the bank at that time.

OH, DIANA

WHY NO, BUDDY? I HAVEN'T BEEN SENDING YOU ANY MASH NOTES YET. HERE, LET ME SEE 'EM.

ROSES IS RED, VIOLETS IS BLUE. I THINK YOU ARE VERY SWEET TOO. (A FRIEND.)

DEAR BUDDY—I HAVE BEEN THINKING ABOUT ADMIRING YOU FOR A LONG TIME. I HOPE YOU ARE THE SAME. YOURS TRULY WITH LOVE—A FRIEND.

HOW WHO O'Y? I HAVE BEEN THINKING ABOUT ME THOSE MEN ARE KINDA DUMB, AIN'T THEY, DIANA?

King? Him? He's a thug. A cheap ham and egg wrestler. A mountebank. A gup. A cad. A... Oh, oh, this is too much. I... catch me, someone.

Hey, you bum! How dare you throw your dirty paws around my sweet daughter? Unhand her, or by—

King! Again, Ritza. I tell you he's a bum. To me, daddy, he shall always be a king. Ah! Come in, and shut the door, George.

LIFE GUARDS ON ALL THE BEACHES

On an unguarded Orange county beach last week, Frederick Bjornsen was drowned.

Perhaps he called frantically for help before the water filled his throat.

But there was no life guard to come to the rescue.

At Huntington Beach Wednesday J. W. Hogan was caught in a rip tide and carried to sea.

His desperate struggles attracted the notice of people on the pier.

Life guards pulled him forth and brought him to consciousness after three hours work.

Bjornsen is dead because there were no guards to pull him out.

Hogan is alive because there were guards to save him.

In asking the county to supply enough guards to protect swimmers, the Laguna Beach chapter of the American Red Cross has started something.

We hope the supervisors come through.

They would, certainly, if they could visualize the horror of the lonely drowning of Bjornsen and the joy of the rescue of Hogan.

This is the time of year when a lot of young college graduates are ready to set the world on fire if somebody will only hand them a match.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE DESERVES PROTECTION

President Roosevelt is entitled to the defense of the senate-house committee on tax evasion against the unethical proposal that his tax returns be investigated.

Such a probe, as proposed by Representative Fish, would be bad taste and worse judgment.

The President—by virtue of his high office and important job—should have protection against attacks on his integrity.

If he is not so defended, every pettifogging politician in the land will launch a series of base accusations, sired by party poison and damed by a desire for publicity.

Representative Fish's charges can wait.

Should they be false, we'll hear no more of them.

If they are true, there's time enough after F.D.R. leaves office.

This country wisely hires secret service men and guards to fend off crack-brained nuts like the assassin who shot McKinley.

It should also provide a guard against presidential character assassins.

The forgotten man, by the way, has a job at good pay but is not allowed to work at it except between sit-downs.

ENOUGH OF THIS STUNT FLYING

Something official on stunt flying at last has come out of Washington.

No one less important than Secretary of Commerce Dan Roper himself has announced that the department is trying to discourage stunts.

Permits for long-distance flights henceforth will be issued only when the department is sure that adequate preparation has been made "through proper instrumentalities and facilities on the ground."

While Secretary Roper didn't say so, we imagine he was referring to the Earhart tragedy.

Regardless of how the great $250,000-a-day search for Miss Earhart and Captain Noonan turns out, the flight under the conditions should never have been permitted.

Let's hope Roper's ruling puts a stop to similar stunts.

Here's hoping that the next war—if there is one—is streamlined—swift, smokeless and noiseless.

THE TRUTH WILL ALWAYS OUT

Buxom Mae West at last has admitted she is married. What a lot of trouble she could have saved by coming clean in the first place.

Reason she didn't tell the facts, it seems, was because she didn't want that kind of publicity.

But little good that did.

She got columns of it on her denial that Frank Wallace was her husband and pages of it on her "confession."

All of which reminds us that the average man or woman in the public eye is scared of frank publicity. Frequently they'll go to great lengths to cover up the most trivial circumstances regarding the truth. But they'll talk freely for quotation about some meaningless abstraction. Mae's case is an example.

British women are shy about going into business, because there is a matter of adding pounds.

S. B. MAY OUTLAW FIREWORKS

Santa Barbara county is working on an ordinance which would bar firecrackers and any other kind of fireworks.

Civic leaders there are wroth over flagrant violations of the anti-fireworks ordinance at the county seat.

Such laws, of course, take the fun out of July Fourth for lots of people.

But one of the reasons such movements get support is that the very persons who feel peeved about a ban are often the most careless about the use of fireworks.

Nation's Capitol

CIO THINKS PRESIDENT HAS "TURNED TAIL"

WASHINGTON. — Speculation regarding a rift between President Roosevelt and John L. Lewis is based on a Washington dispatch to the New York Times. This dispatch was written by Louis Stark, one of the best-known labor reporters in the country, who not only has a high reputation for reliability but has the confidence of ranking labor leaders, including Lewis.

While discreetly phrased to cover up the source, the dispatch is viewed by many in Washington as an authoritative reflection of the views of Lewis. This dispatch reported that a belief was gaining momentum in CIO circles that the "administration has become scared and has turned tail." Some in the CIO feel, it was stated, that Roosevelt "is scuttling militant and progressive labor."

In view of the commotion which this dispatch has caused in Washington, Lewis was asked about it. He merely smiled in his best Sphinxlike manner and said, "No comment." He did not let his overhanging eyebrows down into a scowl of displeasure. On the contrary, they seemed to arch a little defiantly. Apparently Lewis is content to let the statements stand with their implications, knowing that they are being accepted by many in Washington as an authoritative report of his views.

ROOSEVELT TURNS NEUTRAL

Roosevelt has become uneasy over labor developments recently, and has retreated somewhat from strong support of CIO into a more neutral position.

One view, held by some here, is that Lewis is trying to scare the President back into line as he tried to some time ago when he publicly reminded Roosevelt that labor had supported him in the election and expected Roosevelt in turn to support labor.

A second view is that Lewis is looking toward a third major party, to be built on a labor cornerstone with the aid of agricultural workers and such other groups as can be brought in, and that he is preparing the way now for breaking away from the administration.

Those of this group believe that a break may come even before the Democrats draft Senator Wagner—who is resisting stoutly—to run for mayor of New York against La Guardia. While labor has been friendly to Wagner, it has closer political ties with La Guardia, who is supported by the American labor party in New York. This is a Lewis political organization. This group is not likely to sit quietly by and permit a Tammany-Farley combination to defeat La Guardia. Such a fight would open the way to a break with the administration; and, if it would make such a break difficult to avoid.

HEAT IS ON—INDIRECTLY

As against that view of the possibilities is the belief of others that neither Roosevelt nor Lewis will permit a break and that Lewis is simply putting the heat on Roosevelt indirectly.

Particularly it is argued that Lewis cannot afford to allow his movement to become isolated through a break with the administration. Lewis professes to be indifferent as to whether "public opinion" is with the CIO or not. Yet in the long run it is the indispensable ally of any successful movement of a political nature.

Lewis has said repeatedly that labor must have both economic and political power. To achieve its economic power, in the sense of organizing for wages-and-hours bargaining, perhaps labor can go it largely alone. But to exercise real political power, organized labor needs allies. It needs agricultural and white-collar allies. CIO alone cannot exert the major political influence which Lewis apparently has in mind—not with the A. F. of L., which still is a huge organization, fighting it. For these reasons, some doubt if Lewis is ready to cut his ties with the administration.

GAVE 'TIL IT HURT

Yet it must be remembered that the Lewis organization was the heaviest contributor to the Roosevelt campaign. Under such circumstances a man is inclined to be tough over real or imagined slights, remembering how often when one advances money to a friend he loses both his money and his friend. Thus there is a temperamental factor in the situation.

WASHINGTON.—Charles Hilles, secretary to the president, was today chosen chairman of the Republican National committee. This is somewhat of a surprise, for the reason that it was supposed Hilles had practically eliminated himself by his disinclination to serve.

Whatever may be the benefits to be derived from the making of either Chestnut avenue or First street a part of the proposed great state highway from San Francisco to San Diego, residents of the neighborhood of either or both of these thoroughfares are willing to forego all the possible advantages that may accrue in view of the fact that the immediate cost of improvement of the street selected will fall on the individual owners of property abutting on the street, which financial outlay they do not propose to stand if they can avoid it.

So far as is known no effort has been made to get the board of freeholders together for organization and none of the members have taken the oath. E. B. Smith has been particularly active and has written several letters to his brother-in-law in Brooklyn, who is a circuit judge and has had much to do with the commission form of government.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—Inside a fact about the strike situation is that Roosevelt has been under pressure right inside his own cabinet to make a pronouncement warning labor extremists to watch their step.

As far back as the sit-down strikes, one cabinet member who is extremely close to the President urged that he make a friendly but straight-from-the-shoulder statement that, while the administration was for the workingman, they should not go too far.

Several others in the cabinet who are friendly to labor also feel that it is now spoiling its own gains by unauthorized strikes, jurisdictional disputes between unions, and extremist action.

As a result there has been some very quiet, but definite, inner cabinet resentment against the President for not acting long ago. The feeling is that any statement by him now would be interpreted by the country as being dragged out of him rather than volunteered as the leader of the country.

LEWIS WORRIED

There have also been some conversations with John L. Lewis about the irresponsibility of labor extremists, and Lewis has been frank to admit that he is worried about the failure of labor leaders to control their own men. His own problem, Lewis says very frankly, is that the CIO has grown so fast that it lacks sufficient responsible executives.

One weak point which Lewis has been trying to bolster is the United Automobile workers, who have had several hundred unauthorized strikes. For permitting these, Homer Martin has been called on the CIO carpet and told he must control his men.

Martin is an ex-preacher, an amiable, drawly, nice enough fellow, and a good rabble-rouser, but not the two-fisted executive necessary to keep in check one of the newest and most potent unions in the country. CIO executives have considered replacing him, but have not been able to find a suitable successor.

Real fact is that, with unionization expanding at the rate it has, it will take a lot of miracle workers to whip up responsible organizations overnight.

SUSPICIOUS MAGNATES

The steel executives who conferred in Cleveland with President Roosevelt's mediation board took no chances of letting slip any words that might be used against them.

On entering the board room, the steel moguls looked about carefully to see if a dictaphone or other recording device was hidden anywhere. One of them suspiciously examined a small radio that belonged to the hotel.

To allay their doubts, Chairman Charles P. Taft had the board's secretary, who was in and out of the room during the meeting, leave her rest with the board outside. He also explained that she was present only to answer the telephone.

BEER METERS

Scientists of the U. S. bureau of standards have a unique new job—testing beer meters.

Ever hear of a beer meter? Few persons outside the brewing industry have, but the device is one of great importance to the internal revenue bureau.

A beer meter measures the amount of brew that flows from a vat, and on its accuracy depends the government's collection of the $5 per barrel federal beer tax. To check on the accuracy of these meters the government's inspectors are equipped with "master meters" which are clamped on the pipes through which the beer flows.

If the recordings of the master meter do not square with the beer meters, then the agent knows something is wrong.

The bureau of standards makes periodic tests of the master meters to see that they are accurate. The meters are required to be within two-tenths of one per cent perfect. As they register flows of from 20 to 110 gallons of beer a minute, this means they must be constantly regulated and checked.

Note.—In testing the meters the bureau experts get no opportunity to sample the beverage they measure. They have to make their tests with water.

STRIKES VS. SOCIAL SECURITY

The social security board has been watching the present strike melee with considerable misgivings. For within a year it will be mixed in the labor fight up to its chin.

It will be called upon to decide the moot question: When is a worker entitled to unemployment benefits?

There is only one state paying such benefits now—Wisconsin—but 29 others will initiate this phase of the social security program on Jan. 1, 1938.

After that, thousands of disputed cases will come before the state boards. Under the act, workers are disqualified from compensation when their unemployment is the result of a labor dispute, discharge for misconduct or refusing "suitable employment." Each one of these is a prospective battleground.

The board must lay down an administrative definition of "misconduct." It must determine the exact meaning of "suitable employment." If a worker refuses a wage cut, and is fired, the board must pass on the question of whether the proffered wage is "suitable."

In the case of strikers applying for unemployment benefits, the board will have to determine whether or not the labor dispute is "in active progress."

Appeal boards will handle the cases in their respective states, but determination of major policy will rest with the board in Washington, which can enforce its will by granting or withholding administrative funds in each state. (Copyright, 1937)

One Man's Opinion

6-Alaskan Series

ALASKA'S DESTINY

The Matanuska project suffers at the hands of its friends and foes alike.

Shortly, Matanuska told me, an erstwhile friend of the project will publish a book to be known as "The Matanuska Muddle." The author, they say, is one who has been unsympathetic toward the colony since its start, and who has an especial grievance against it now, the fact that its administrators declined to give him a job connected with its management.

"Muddle" it may be, but it should not be convicted on biased testimony. That is certain.

Traveling coastwise to Seward and then inland to Matanuska, I was fortunate in meeting, among many others, E. A. Rasmuson, president of the Bank of Alaska. Mr. Rasmuson is also national committeeman of the Republican party for Alaska.

Mr. Rasmuson calls himself "a lifelong Republican." Yet he, active in the political party opposed to the originators of the Matanuska experiment, sees in it one of the chief hopes of Alaska's future greatness. He regards Matanuska as a real opportunity for Alaska and Alaskans to prove that their country can be made to be self-sustaining through its own agricultural resources.

"I have visited the Matanuska project several times," Mr. Rasmuson told me. "I have been in the colonists' homes and have talked with many of them. I know from what they have told me that at least 90 per cent of those who are there now are not only satisfied, but pleased. And I know that they are even now a great asset to Alaska. As an Alaskan I welcome them, for I know that they, together with those who came here ahead of them and with those who are yet to come, will make our Alaska one of the best places on earth for the common man to live."

There are many other Alaskans, too, who see in Matanuska and its experiment in self-subsistence the germ of future greatness for Alaska itself. For, once the fact has been established that hard work, if well-financed, will change a forest wilderness into a self-supporting, paying farm, Alaska's ultimate economic independence is assured.

'YOU'D BETTER RECOGNIZE'

(San Diego Sun)

Looking us over with the eye of a master economist, Sir Josiah of England concludes that America's "most difficult hurdle" is its problem of labor-management relations.

America, he finds after an extended visit here, is about at the same crossroads where England found herself 20 years ago, trying to make up its mind "whether or not to recognize labor." British industry decided to recognize unionism and has never regretted it. Our own tardy arrival at that viewpoint, he says, will bring us face to face with complications that England avoided.

America's problem, he said, is not one of higher wages. "It comes down to a question of recognition."

"I am struck by the fact that the antithesis of the mind and the element of force," he said, "whereas before it was the old state of mind met with conciliation and argument. Force is too much in the foreground in your dispute."

Since 50 per cent of our strikes are over questions of recognition and since the present chaos in the steel belt is directly traceable to the independent steel companies' refusal to negotiate sincerely with the CIO, Sir Josiah's comment is timely.

"You'd better recognize!" was Sir Josiah's parting advice to American industry as he left for London. We agree.

The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is active, the politicians and people sit up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and people are eager to hear the honest, intelligent fair discussion of our problems is immensely useful. So that every citizen may have his say and contribute to the formation of public opinion, The Journal invites letters to The Mailbag.

WHY DO THEY OBJECT?

To the Editor: In your July 6th issue the following appears: "3rd term? Phooey!" shout Santa Anans," by John McClelland.

B. Z. McKinney does not favor a third term for any president. He does not give his reasons for his opposition. Think it would be a good idea for any or all of those people objecting to a third term for President Roosevelt or for a third term for any president for that matter, to give their reasons for such objections. They just say they do not favor a third term. Well, any one can say that, but just why they object, there must be some reason, and some of us at least would very much prefer to hear the full story in detail. If they have something behind the barn that we don't know about would they please come out in the open with it, maybe it would help a lot to solve the hidden problem.

When I object to a person's actions, I don't just say I object, but I state fully why I do object. Tustin.

O. P. SMITH.

NEW YORK. — Thoughts while strolling: Italy before Mussolini—strikes, strikes and nothing but strikes. Jewel names: Tay Garnett, the Diamond Brothers, Rose Sapphire, Harry Ruby and Jack Pearl. The old medicine show comedian Tom Howard. Now a radio feature.

Trigger stuff: A perfume already marketed in honor of the Windsor Duchess. Add talented red-heads: Burgess Meredith. No comedian can look so utterly goofy as Bert Lahr. Name any popular song of the past 25 years and the A. P.'s Kent Cooper can play it on the piano by ear.

Talent with out-standing ears: Noel Coward, Fred Astaire and Clark Gable. To put over a song, I'll still take Sophie Tucker and Harry Richman. George Abbott has taken George S. Kaufman's place as the theater's No. 1 Miracle Man. That twinkle in Lois Long smile.

Not many masters of ceremony can top George Jessel in flossing up an introduction. Frank Chapman is almost out-did Lucius Beebe these days. Dr. Raymond L. Dittmars, the zoo reptile expert. Once a newspaperman himself, Edwin Baimar doesn't walk, he zooms.

Rhyme: Whiskers by Billy De Beck are the funniest. By Heck! When a great man dies, I think of the poet's line about Lincoln: "A giant oak toppled and left a void against the sky." The town always seems just a little bit livelier when Gene Fowler is in our midst. And that's personality.

Broadway after quite a lapse has had from Ned Walsh, once a morning reporter on the old Morning Telegraph. He described himself as: "The grave of a million high-balls." And was always where the crowds were thickest and lights brightest. Thus Time Marches On! Today he is a florist in Boston, catering flowers to staid old Beacon Hill families, putting around his greenhouses and motoring every night to a farm in Essex where he raises colts and pheasants.

Welsh was a contemporary with Charlie Somerville, who covered Broadway for the Morning World. Somerville was the first journalist to sport a gold-headed cane, a gift to him from the actor, Sir Forbes-Robertson. In those days the bar of the Hotel Marlborough was a rendezvous for journalistic aristocrats. Across the way was the Herald, which contributed its quota to Marlborough trade. News-gathering somehow seemed a more enchanted calling in those days. Crack men of the profession snared only for life and its excitements. To the world they were models of modesty, but to their fellows they had the bluster of Edmund Kean, setting down tankards with a bang and roaring contempt for city editors. Quick, fluent, moody, they lived hard and dangerously. Few reached 50.

There are many conjectures as to the age of Major Bowes. He confesses to "50 and a little bit." My private guess is that he is about 60. There is a definite weariness about his eyes, but few wear years so lightly. He has the enthusiasm of the 20's, plus the energies of the 30's. He goes through his mail personally, being a block reader who digests a page at a glance. Nobody with a legitimate right to see him and he answers all his telephone calls on a regular system of exercise, but lately due to the high pressure of duties has had to curtail social engagements. He accepts but one dinner engagement a week.

Maiden Lane always seemed to me the most attractively named thoroughfare in the metropolis. Once it was lined almost solidly with jewelry establishments. There are such stores there today, but thinking back to the 1920's, I remember a large number of the district in the 40's. It used to be a stunt in the old Maiden Lane days to slide up slowly to a jewelry shop window and glance about furtively. Almost magic-like, there would appear out of nowhere, a detective on either side to see that no window was bricked or any other thieving trickery indulged.

Maiden Lane, I believe, was the generating ground of one of the most perplexing problems I ever faced. One noon after lunch I was browsing through the district in a leisurely saunter and some how was eddied out to the curb where I fell in conversation with one of the sandwich men so numerous in the area. Suddenly he asked me to hold his banner a moment and showed it against me and darted across the street. I waited at least 20 minutes, feeling wretchedly uncomfortable and conspicuous. Finally I leaned it against a post and went back to the way home. I passed through the block. The banner was still there. And had I been half as accomplished plotting as O. Henry it would have provided the ingredients of a bang-up short story with some of those unusual twists for a finale.
